U. S. Approves Strong Greece

Army Increased as Reply to Guerrillas by Red Neighbors.

By The Associated Press

ATHENS, Jan. 6—With the consent of the United States, the strength of the Greek army is to be increased by 12,000 men and the manpower of the national guard is to be boosted to 50,000 men, Premier Themistokles Sophoulis announced last night.

The decision, he said, constitutes a reply to the help given Communist rebels by Greece's neighbors and is intended to encourage those who defended and liberated Konitsa in the last week of the old year. The announcement was issued after Sophoulis conferred for two hours with Dwight P. Griswold, head of the American aid mission to Greece.

By strengthening the national guard, Sophoulis said, the army will be freed of guard duties and enabled to pursue and attack the guerrillas of Markos Vafiades, the rebel chieftain, who has proclaimed a Communist state in Greece, but who has been unable to find a seat for his government.

At the same time, the U. S. state department announced in Washington that as part of the program to aid Greece in its fight against communism Britain had been given blanket authority to

8 PRISON ESCAPEES CAUGHT IN 4 HOURS

By The Associated Press

CHILLICOTHE, O., Jan. 6—Eight prisoners of the federal reformatory near here escaped last night but all were recaptured within four hours.

Warden Clark Schilder reported today that the eight, all serving terms for interstate transportation of stolen cars, picked a dormitory lock about 8 p. m. and went over an eight-foot fence. A guard who failed to notice them climbing the wire fence has been discharged, Schilder said.

The warden identified the eight as:

Robert E. Hatten, 20, of Huntington, W. Va., caught by guards about 10:30 p. m. six miles west of the reformatory; William A. Clance, 18, of Macon, Ga., Grady Blevins, 23, of Cookville, Tenn., and Billy Bastin, 20, of Linden, Tenn., all captured at 11 p. m. at Frankfort, 16 miles west; George R. Roper, 21, of Philadelphia, found shivering on the Veterans' hospital grounds a mile away; and Edward F. Utch and Marion Rash, both 19 and both of Cheyenne, Wyo., and Theodore Haugh, 19, of Amarillo, Tex., all caught by the state highway patrol near Milford, Clermont county.

Schilder said all would be charged with escaping from a federal institution. The Chillicothe reformatory is of the open type, principally for young first offenders.

The state highway patrol reported at Columbus that Theodore Haugh received a minor gunshot wound when patrolmen fired four shots during the capture at Milford. State Patrolmen W. M. Wells and R. A. Brickles of the Wilmington patrol post identified Haugh as the driver of a car stolen from near Chillicothe.

PLAN BURIAL FOR CHILDREN

Rites for Two Held Today; Others To Be Held Tomorrow.

By The Associated Press

ARCHBOLD, O., Jan. 6 — Two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Osborne were buried here today in the first of three family-group funerals for 10 children killed Sunday when a fast passenger train knifed through their tractor-drawn bobsled.

Services will be held tomorrow morning for two sons and two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Grieser. Four daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Grieser will be buried tomorrow afternoon.

The combined grade and high school was to be closed both days, and most of this northwestern Ohio town's 1,300 residents expected to attend services or express condolences.

Rev. Paul Fisher conducted 1:30 p. m. services today in the Defenseless Mennonite church for Jean Osborne, 12, and her sister, Marjorie, 16.

Wednesday morning, Donald Grieser, 13; his brother, Marlin, 11; and their sisters, Arlene, 10, and Janice, 4, will be interred following services in the Central Mennonite church.

At 2 p. m. tomorrow, Rev. Reuben Short will conduct services in the Central Mennonite church for Gayle Grieser, 13 her twin, Charlene; and their sisters, Patricia, 8, and Sharon, 6.

Meanwhile, Fulton County Coroner H. W. Warner scheduled an inquest for Monday. Two girls injured in the tragedy — Shirley Grieser, 9, another daughter of the Raymond Griesers, and Janice Wyse, 7, daughter of Jesse Wyse, who drove the tractor—remained in the hospital, and Wyse's brother-in-law added additional details of how the mishap occurred.

The brother-in-law, Monroe Short, quoted Wyse as saying:

"I pulled up at the track and made the safety stop. There was a car following me with some small boys in it. It stopped, and there were a few snowballs thrown—you know how kids will do.

"I thought we ought to be moving on before some of kids' glasses got broken. I looked to see if anything was coming and then started over the tracks.

"After I got under way I looked back to see if the children were all right in the sleigh, and when I turned around, there was the train."

N.Y. Central Trains To Be Diesel Drawn

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 6—The New York Central expects steady deliveries on its $60,000,000 order for new passenger cars will make possible the complete re-equipment of 20 key trains this year, G. Metzman, president of the system, said today.

By the end of the winter, Metzman told a news conference, 25 of the Central's important long-distance passenger trains will be drawn by new diesel-electric locomotives, and this number will be increased as rapid as other passenger diesels now on the drawing board are completed.

KENTUCKY MAN DIES IN CRASH AT CARDINGTON

Wife in Marion Hospital Seriously Hurt as Train Hits Auto.

A Kentucky man was killed and his wife seriously injured when the car he was driving was sheared in two by a New York Central passenger train at the West Main street railroad crossing in Cardington last night.

Estel Griffith, 50, of Wheelwright, Ky., was killed instantly at 9:27 p. m. and his wife, Florence G. Griffith, was seriously injured.

The northbound passenger train No. 424, cut Griffith's 1942 auto in half, scattering the rear half but leaving the front half fairly intact. Mrs. Griffith was riding in the front seat with her husband.

The accident occurred almost a year to the day from the date of an accident at the same crossing which took the lives of six persons last year.

Lights in Operation

Warning lights at the crossing were flashing at the time of the accident, state highway patrolmen said. Cpl. T. B. Morgan and Patrolman W. W. Antone of the state highway patrol were in a car with Morrow county Sheriff Tom England and Cardington Marshal Bill Struthers a few hundred feet away from the accident when it occurred.

Cpl. Morgan reported that apparently Griffith shifted into second gear as he came up to the crossing thinking he could beat the train across.

The Griffith's were returning from Mansfield where they had been visiting two sons who are serving sentences in the Mansfield Reformatory—Hobert Griffith, for assault with a deadly weapon, and Ralph Griffith for assault with intent to kill. The two brothers entered the reformatory Jan. 30, 1947, and will not be eligible for parole until December of 1951, a reformatory spokesman said.

Daughter at Home

The Griffiths have a daughter living with them in Wheelwright, Ky. The state highway patrol has been trying to locate her to inform her of the accident.

Griffith's body was removed to the Curl mortuary in Cardington and Mrs. Griffith was taken to Marion City hospital in the Curl ambulance after being taken to Dr. W. L. Murphy's office in Cardington.

She is reported in semi-conscious condition today. She is suffering from internal injuries and multiple lacerations, her attending physician said.

Dr. Frank Sweeney, Morrow county coroner, arrived at the scene of the accident shortly after it occurred and pronounced Mr. Griffith dead. He was badly mangled, his head crushed and a large cut in his back.

The Griffiths had registered at the Rhineberger tourist camp in Cardington and had intended to spend the night there before continuing on their journey home, but when Mrs. Griffith became ill, they decided to leave immediately.

A funeral director from Wheelwright is on his way to Cardington to make funeral arrangements and is expected to arrive this afternoon, the Curl mortuary reported.

Engineer of the train was C. H. Lenz of Cleveland, and the conductor was U. McKnight of Miamisburg.

The officers at the scene of the accident were in Cardington looking for an escaped inmate of the state hospital in Columbus who was found in Columbus and returned to the hospital last night.

Two Accidents Today On Cardington Street

Cardington's West Main street was the scene of two more traffic accidents this morning — both caused by the icy condition of the street after last night's snow, the state highway patrol reported.

At 8 a. m. a car driven by Elmer E. White, 32, of Wadsworth, O., skidded and ran into the front porch of a house on West Main street owned by Ellis Powers of Cardington. Both the car and the house were considerably damaged, but no injuries were reported.

About two hours later, [illegible] driven by Stanley V. Smith, 25, of Cleveland, and [illegible] Perry, 21, of [illegible] Ohio, [illegible] Cardington, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Drug Stimulates "Lazy" Muscles

Neostigmine is a drug which has the effect of stimulating the action of smooth muscles. Since the walls of the stomach and bowel are largely composed of smooth muscle tissue, this preparation is of great usefulness in the treatment of certain disorder of the gastro-intestinal tract due to "lazy" or inactive muscles.

Neostigmine stimulates the contractions of the intestines, increases the tone of strength of the bowel muscles, and thus speeds up the movement of the material through the intestine. It also stimulates the secretions of the stomach and pancreas and small intestine.

One of the chief uses of the drug is to lessen distention or swelling of the bowel after such operations as removal of the appendix or gallbladder and the repair of hernia or rupture.

About three-fourths of certain patients who did not receive this preparation, but who were treated in other ways, suffered from distention following operation. Only about one out of five of those who were given the drug at two-hour intervals for six days suffered from distention.

Some doctors think that if the drug is given before operation, distention will occur even less frequently. This preparation can be used in both the young and the old.

Neostigmine is also used in the treatment of constipation. Of course, the doctor will decide in just what instances it is of value in treating this disorder.

It may also be beneficial in some cases of gallbladder disease if there is a great deal of gas formation of distention of the bowel. The drug will not cure gallbladder condition but it may be helpful in relieving its symptoms.

Because of its action on the muscles, neostigmine, of course, has other uses. It has been employed to stimulate the contractions of the urinary bladder; also in helping to get rid of stones that may be pressent in the ureter which leads from the kidney to the bladder.

Neostigmine has been of benefit in the treatment of myasthenia gravis, a condition in which there is weakness of the muscles.

Thus, it will be seen that this drug is most valuable in many different conditions affecting muscles anywhere in the body. At the same time, it should be remembered that there are times when its indiscriminate use might spell disaster. For this reason, the decision as to whether or not it should be employed must always be left to the physician.

Questions And Answers

E. B.: What causes large pores and a purplish-red color on the skin of the sides of the nose?

Answer: This disorder is probably due to a condition known as acne rosacea, or lupus erpthematosus.

In the treatment, the nose should be carefully examined internally and externally: digestive disorders should receive attention, and the bowels should be regulated. Alcohol and highly-spiced foods should be avoided. X-ray treatment appears to be a reliable form of treatment. Sulphur and resorcin lotions are helpful.

North Co. Union Plans Election at Galion

PILES ARE NEVER "MILD"
DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formations without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief — written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free. No Appointment Needed.

Thanks, Folks . . .

Thanks for your confidence. We have just closed our books with the biggest sales total in the long history of this store. Again, thanks.

Early last year we promised that we would continue to hold the price line and our greatly lowered margin of profit proves that we have done so. Your increased patronage has shown clearly that you had faith in our promises.

So once again we pledge you our word that we shall continue to absorb any price advances which may be placed upon us. We shall continue to sell good, guaranteed merchandise at our old prices regardless of cost. Many of these prices are way below the old OPA price ceilings.

There are a number of items such as Electrical Appliances and some few other items which are "fair traded" in Ohio. On such items we are obliged by law to sell at the price fixed by the manufacturer. In all other cases you may continue in the faith that we shall save money for you.

We are very proud of our reputation for lower prices. And we are very proud also to tell you that you are always sure of a friendly welcome at the busy store where every employee is proud to be associated not grumblingly, but boasting that he is the best paid man in the city in his line of work.

To all of the fine folks who have never traded with us we extend a special invitation to give us a trial. You will like our prices—you will like trading with us and you can just bet your last dollar that we will please you or we don't want your money.

UMT TRYOUT IN 2ND YEAR

General in Charge of Experiment at Fort Knox Views It with Satisfaction.

By The Associated Press

FORT KNOX, Ky., Jan. 6—The United States' first experiment in proposed peacetime universal military training started its second year today.

►A politically hot subject at times, in the expressed views of many observers and leaders.

►With its possible adoption—or rejection—by the congress convening today, in the pronounced opinion of some leaders, bound to have a powerful influence upon the nation's course in world affairs.

►And with some of its innovations, begun a year ago at this huge old military post upon raw recruits to Army life now being extended throughout the entire ground forces' training.

A year ago today, Brig. Gen. John M. Devine, an Army veteran of 35 years, was welcoming the first of 664 teen-agers, volunteering for the regular Army and the first taste of what UMT in peacetime would be like.

Today, the slight, quick-talking general from Providence, R. I., in his own words, has finished "the most satisfying year of any I've spent in the Army."

He reported a survey of cadremen-instructors showed 95 per cent of the trainees "like it here" during their six-month training period. The second group of about 660 completed the course Dec. 20. Two companies of the third group are to arrive Jan. 12 with the remaining two companies coming in Jan. 26 for the next cycle.

Devine is bidding farewell to the "test tube" unit, which includes some of those first trainees now instructors. He said he's leaving Jan. 13 for Fort Monroe, Va., to head the Army ground forces' G-3 section, which has charge of operations and training.

No More Swearing, They Say

Some of the things tried here initially, he said, have been adopted by AGF. Others will be extended through the AGF. For instance: A curb on swearing—for which legendary sergeants have been notorious. Gen. Jacob Devers, AGF chief, has directed that swearing be cut out.

This is illustrative, Devine said in an interview, of the changed attitude adopted in the UMT unit on the relationship between instructors and student soldiers, the former now leading the latter, instead of driving them.

AGF training centers he reported, have adopted the trainees' court and merit system originated here. "Strict but just" discipline is sought here, with the trainees handling their own members' minor offenses, Devine said. He added instructors have found "you don't have to be nasty" to get results.

More Personal Consideration

Pressure of wartime prevented dwelling upon the individual as a separate personality "sometimes with serious consequences," the wartime commander of the Eighth armored division said. Now there is more time to treat soldiers as individuals. "They respond better," he added.

Devine said officers here "are not trying to sell" the idea of UMT, but "are trying to show what it would be like." It would not build the regular Army but provide a huge reserve.

President Truman's committee on proposed training, headed by Dr. Karl T. Compton, recommended six months' basic Army instruction followed by six months of optional training in various branches.

While Mr. Truman has spoken out for UMT, the issue has cut party lines, with various leaders favoring it while others oppose it. Former Vice President Henry A. Wallace hammered against UMT in speeches before announcement of his presidential candidacy as an Independent.

Explains Aims

Devine said the purpose of UMT in this atomic age is not to provide specialists — terming the six months' period too short for that—but to turn out "well grounded privates, the kind you can make specialists out of later."

The general declared "we think we have devised a fine course in citizenship" for teen-age Americans, teaching them how to live with one another in close proximity. He added the stress is on duties and obligations of citizenship as well as rights and privileges of Americans.

2 Held to Grand Jury In Crawford Co. Thefts

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—Bonds were fixed against John Solinger, 25, and his companion Edward Cooper, 21, in Mayor Sonner's court at Crestline Monday and two were returned to the county jail to await the action of the next grand jury.

Solinger was placed under $5,000 bond and Cooper's bond was fixed at $2,500.

The men are charged with two rural robberies during the holidays, one the breaking and entering of a kitchen at the John Huber residence and the other at the B. H. Smith residence where Solinger is alone charged as defendant.

Items missing from the two homes included a .32 calibre revolver and a quantity of jewelry from the Smith home and two rifles, two telescopes and three revolvers taken from the Huber residence.

Pennsy Flyer Derails At Bucyrus; None Hurt

BUCYRUS, Jan. 6—All trains east and west on the Pennsylvania railroad were delayed approximately two hours when a fast 14 car Pennsylvania passenger train was derailed near Whetstone street shortly before 10 p. m. Sunday.

Trainmen brought to Bucyrus with a wreck train from Crestline, said a spring falling from one of the cars caught on a switch causing the derailment and damage to the signal system and track. Two cars of the train were derailed in the mishap.

Canton Bus Strike Goes Into 39th Day

By The Associated Press

CANTON, O., Jan. 6—Canton's bus strike went into its 39th day today following rejection by the AFL International Teamsters Union local of a 15-cent-an-hour wage increase contingent upon a higher fare schedule.

The teamsters voted the 15-cent raise down in a meeting last night 102 to 20, while city council, in session at the time, unanimously approved amending Canton City Lines franchise to provide for 10-cent single cash fares instead of seven-cent ones and cutting the number of tickets sold for a quarter from five to four.

Expecting a Baby?
Mother's Friend massaging preparation helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.
MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy... it helps keep the skin soft and pliable... thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin... for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use. Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Millions of bottles sold. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin emollient and lubricant. Do try it.

Democracy in High Gear

LIKE every session of congress within memory, the one now convening is on the spot.

Perhaps things are worse now than they were when the Continental Congress was presiding over the birth of the Republic; perhaps events in 1947 are more momentous than they were during the Civil war; or during two World wars when the nation became aware of its international responsibilities; or during the depression of the 30's when Americans took inventory of their weaknesses and tried to do something about them.

But perhaps in the long view the final session of the 80th congress has responsibilities only as great, not greater, than its predecessors and can be depended on to handle them just about as well. It helps to think of it that way, because what congress and the people need most is confidence. This is not time for moans about awful things that might happen, but a time for straight thinking about what can happen if the United States keeps its head.

Congress is a fair cross-section of the people, and the people are fundamentally confident. They are confused by doubts and fears about facts of existence since 1917 and needs to be kept in perspective. They are mixed up by failure to distinguish between realities in their own affairs and opinions that conceal realities, such as the opinion that the federal government must have certain extraordinary powers to check inflation. That just isn't so. The government can check inflation whenever it wants to quit playing fox and start playing statesman.

There needs to be honest appraisal of such matters as military preparedness and military commitments. This is not an issue between those who would do something unpopular and those who would do nothing at all for reasonable security. There must be intelligent judgment about the use of credit to restore the producing and trading power of Europe. All these matters require statesmanship, not penny ante politics and ax-grinding.

The best sendoff for the last session of the 80th congress is to wish its potential statesmen luck and to hope the rest will fall into an open manhole on their way to work. Representative democracy is about to go into high gear. It needs to work at its best in the months immediately ahead, not only the members of the 80th congress but the 140,000,000 Americans they represent.

France's Bitter Medicine

THE plea of Gen. De Gaulle for abolition of labor unions is a result of the capricious use of power by the Communist-infested unions which brought France to the brink of disaster.

In describing France's economy as "an absurd system where, for a minimum salary, people supply a minimum effort which produces collectively minimum results," De Gaulle points out the sad state to which France has fallen because of strikes, sabotage and abuse of power by labor leaders whose first loyalty was not to France.

Unions can thrive as long as they are responsible. Irresponsibility on their part drives a nation either to absolutism of the right or the left—there is little difference, for then the workers become enslaved wards of the government.

De Gaulle's proposal was received without enthusiasm, as well it might be. It is possible France may yet avoid taking such drastic action as the workers realize that they are France, that the country can be saved from absolutism if they will turn to with a will instead of bickering, brawling and frittering away the nation's lifeblood in Communist-inspired strikes.

She May Be Right

MRS. D. LEIGH COLVIN, president of the W.C.T.U., holds out hope that the United States is slowly going dry. She reports that 37 of every 100 Americans abstain from drink, an increase of four over two years ago. She says 500 districts voted local option dry laws during 1947.

Mrs. Colvin may well be right.

From Washington come reports of the $1.10 cocktail. Distillers and brewers are having grain trouble. "The Lost Weekend" gave many cause for sober reflection. Alcoholics Anonymous is flourishing. Taxes on spirits and beer are terrific. Consumption dropped 32.6 per cent during the first half of 1947.

Force more inexorable than the 18th amendment are at work all over the nation Mrs. Colvin's figures prove it.

A Sad Tale

IT'S a sad tale that's told in a booklet titled "Housing: Puny Giant," distributed by the Wall Street Journal.

A reprint of eight articles by Journal reporters after an exhaustive survey, the booklet says the building industry during 1947 charged American builders $1,000,000,000 for sheer waste. In other words, every fifth dollar spent by builders went for make-work labor practices, cost-boosting devices devised by contractors and Armchair building techniques which can't be circumvented because of outmoded city codes.

Most of the facts reported in the booklet have been cited elsewhere, but gathered in one booklet they constitute an appalling tale of selfishness, bungling and just plain obstinacy.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Genealogies Not Always Truthful.

I RECENTLY received letters from descendants of Aaron Burr and Ralph Isaacs protesting comments of mine on these worthies. Of course, the descendants are in no manner responsible for their ancestors. We can choose our wives but not our grandparents. A fellow recently told me who his fifth grandfather was and I should, I suppose, have been impressed. But was he responsible for his fifth grandfather? Also, he said nothing about all the other ancestors and their grandfathers. Maybe it is just as well.

SOKOLSKY

Genealogies make exciting reading, if they are at all truthful. Most of them are not. Most of them omit the bad eggs, and blanco posnets, the little devils that somehow creep into every breed. My own ancestors were all wonderful men, or so the book says. Nevertheless, the best of them all was excommunicated for saying: "It just isn't so." Maybe that is where I got the habit of tearing away the veil of sham.

I met a liberal the other day. He is still a liberal but he talked the way I used to five years ago. In a word, he has fashionably become a conservative. He will vote against Henry Wallace. He wants to beat the brains out of poor Henry, who, he says, has wrecked American liberalism and set it back half a century. This fellow has many liberal ancestors because he comes of a long line of inherited wealth. His ancestors could afford to talk broadly while they counted inherited shekels.

Suitably Located

But he dares not pursue the consequences of his ancestral liberalism. Henry Wallace does. He has marched straight into the Communist camp, which is logical. That is where he belongs. Lots of liberals belong there—even if they do not possess inherited wealth or a guilty conscience. Anybody can reason himself into anything. That is one of the penalties of intelligence without moral responsibility.

But to get back to ancestors. Every time I visit a house that has a coat-of-arms sticking on the wall, particularly one relating to William the Conqueror, I like to engage the owner of the windshield decoration in conversation concerning the life and times of his ancestor. Those Normans were awful thieves. Al Capone could not hold a candle to them. They came into good, old Anglo-Saxon England and swiped everything in sight. If the Norman characteristics dominate — well, you can reach your own conclusions.

But what most of these ancestor-hunters forget is that there is always a lady in the case, for no one has yet discovered how to have descendants without a mother. While it is possible to trace the old man down to the fellow who handed the mighty William his stirrupcup, they ought to do some tracing of distaff ancestors. They might even find that that is where the money comes from—the inherited money that makes current liberalism so free and easy.

Rugged Ancestry

Of course, the trouble with American society is that it really has no ancestors to fuss over. These people who go in for fancy folderols about keeping their neighborhoods, their schools, their clubs, their associations so exclusive only too often have an ancestor one or two generations back who was a peasant, a ditch-digger, the water-boy to a horse thief.

It is so sad. They never like you to mention it, although the reason they can sit around and talk liberalism is that the aforesaid peasant, etc., made a lot of money and then dropped dead. They were all cheerful about his dropping dead because he ate his peas with a knife But they like his money, so they hire a genealogist who tells them, for so many dollars, that the father wasn't the ancestor at all, but that they really descend from an illegitimate son of an illegitimate father through a trollop back in the thirteenth century.

That cheers them no end and they get themselves into the social register, join a few clubs, become exclusive, eat rich food, drink heady gins and die broke because of the inheritance tax. The business that papa left them is sold to some reconverted peasant who is not troubled by his ancestors. Ain't it fun?

They're Still Just Mild About Harry

Congress reconvenes today.

There goes Truman's hope for a happy new year.

When Mr. Truman was sworn in, everyone thought the President and congress would get along famously instead of feudingly. After all, he had been a member of the senate for a number of years. But this proved to be one of those cases where familiarity breeds contention.

Three years in office have changed the President from Trusting Truman to Harried Harry. It's beginning to appear he can't even placate congress, much less dominate it.

As a consequence, Mr. Truman has added a new phrase to the lexicon of legislative terminology. We've long had the "pocket veto." I mean, but it was Harry who introduced the "reluctant signature."

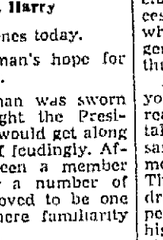
At any rate, the eyes of the nation are on the Eightieth congress as it reconvenes today . . . . Will it do something about inflation . . . Or doesn't it want to be inconsistent?

Diplomatic Plan Now Possible

By Walter Lippmann

THE evolution of United States foreign policy has reached a point where it may be said that a considered general conception can now prevail over improvisation at scattered points all over the globe. It is now possible, I believe, to discern the new pattern of American policy It has developed as a result of responsible re-examination of the problem of European reconstruction in relation to the Marshall plan, and of the European political situation, and of American military strategy.

The grand result of all these studies is that it is not possible, nor desirable, nor necessary to treat western Europe plus western Germany as a military bastion against the expansion of the Soviet power. It is not possible to do this because the Germans cannot be relied upon as allies. It is not desirable to rebuild western Europe as a military arsenal because in the event of war on the continent the Red Army could easily capture it. Finally it is not necessary to do it because the effective way to check the expansion of the Soviet power is not on land in continental Europe but by the use of sea and air power to dominate the heart of Russia itself.



LIPPMANN

From this it follows that American military policy need not be based on the organization of an anti-Soviet coalition which would have to be subsidized, stiffened, and held in line with American money, American troops, and endless intervention in the internal affairs of our allies. American military policy would, on the contrary, be based on the revolutionary development of air power, which can strike from a distance at the center and bypass the periphery.

Alters Relationship

This alters radically our fundamental relationship to the nations of Europe. To put it bluntly their protection against the Red Army is not in their fortifications and in their troops, and in our troops, but in our power to strike at the Russian homeland from bases outside the continent of Europe. Since in the event of war their role is not to be the bridgehead, the aircraft carrier, and therefore the battlefield, they can devote their energies to internal reconstruction and to European economic cooperation.

This conception, which is based on military considerations, is fortified by the conclusion of all the studies which underlie the Marshall plan. They have shown that the restoration of trade between eastern and western Europe is necessary both to the west and to the east. Without it western Europe must undertake a revolutionary change, which could not be achieved in a generation, in the character of its trade. Without it eastern Europe must pass through a long period of economic stagnation.

Therefore, despite all that the communists say against the Marshall plan, despite all that some Americans say about not trading with eastern Europe, the fact is that the nations on both sides of the iron curtain are eagerly and persistently reaching out toward one another.

Czech View

The remarks made by Mr. Ripka, the Czechoslovak minister of foreign trade, reflect the realities. The Marshall plan is a plan which will unify, which will not divide further, the continent of Europe, and if it works at all, every European country will participate in it and will benefit from it.

This general pattern of policy which has gradually emerged during the past year will not be confirmed and established until Congress has adopted the Marshall plan and the military policy which is its corollary. But already the new conception has had important practical results.

Thus the idea has been abandoned by all responsible men that western Germany should be formed as a state and that we should make a separate peace with it We have avoided thus far, and in all probability we shall succeed in avoiding, entanglement as active participants in the Chinese civil war We have avoided also direct military participation in the Greek civil war. The disposition to intervene in the internal affairs of Great Britain, France, and Italy is decidedly less strong than it was in the heyday of the so-called Truman doctrine There has come also a better understanding and greater wisdom in our dealings with the nations in the Soviet orbit. And we have learned, as is indicated by our conciliatory approach to the problems of the Little Assembly, that the United Nations should not be treated as expendible in the cold war with Russia.

All these things do not indicate a weakening of American policy. They are, on the contrary, evidences of an increasing strength, efficiency, and lucidity.

Losing the Parade

The Choice in Greece

By Stewart and Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

IF any further proof is needed that the world is now in the zone of war, it is only necessary to consider the possible American responses to a Soviet recognition of the "government" of General Markos Vlfiades. Already, of course, the Markos drive on Greece is based squarely on support from the Soviet satellites. The main military base for the Communist general's unsuccessful drive on Konitsa was across the Albanian border five miles away His propaganda broadcasts, it has been learned, emanate from a mobile railway car across the Yugoslav frontier. But this sort of thing is still unofficial, unadmitted.

The Soviet bloc is thus as yet not finally committed. But the expected official recognition of the Markos regime will commit the Soviets to open aggression against the Greek government. The nature of the decision with which such Soviet challenge will confront the United States can be understood from the fact that one response now being seriously considered is the establishment of a great Anglo-American base in the southern Mediterranean.

Three main alternative courses of action will in fact be open to the United States if the Soviet bloc recognizes and gives armed support to the Markos government. These three alternatives are now being anxiously debated by the American policy makers.

Greeks Can Fight

The first is simply more of the same—more aid to the Greek government, with added emphasis on building up the Greek military forces. It is argued that if the Greek army were enlarged from its present strength of 150,000 to its wartime strength of 400,000 men, and if it were completely equipped with American arms, the Greeks would then be able to withstand on their own anything short of an open, all-out Soviet-sponsored assault. On the other hand, such an army would constitute an intolerable drain on Greek manpower, and on the inflation-riddled Greek economy. Greek economic stability, without which Greek political stability is impossible, would be indefinitely delayed.

The second alternative is to send American troops to Greece. Both Greek Foreign Minister Constantin Tsaldaris, on his visit to Washington, and Greek Ambassador Vassili Dendramis, are believed unofficially to have requested American troops. There is some support for this proposal both in the state department and in the Pentagon building. It is argued that to send even a regimental combat team of 4,000 men would serve to stiffen the backs of the Greeks and would be a token of American determination to thwart the Soviet push south.

Some See It as "Trap."

Yet there appears to be a growing body of opinion against such a move. There are cogent arguments that to commit American troops to Greece would be merely to fall into a trap designed by the Politburo. A small force would be useless, except for morale purposes. A few thousand Americans could not crush the guerrillas where 150,000 Greeks have failed, and as soon as this became clear any morale value from the presence of American troops in Greece would disappear. The only really effective American military action in Greece would be the sealing off of the Greek borders. If this could be done at all, it would require several divisions.

Thus an important segment of American military force would be concentrated on one small point on the Soviet perimeters, leaving the Soviets free to shift their main expansionist drive elsewhere to Italy, or to Persia, or to Austria, or to Turkey.

Or an "All-Out" Effort

That is why an entirely new appoach to the problem of containing the Soviet push south is being seriously considered, both in Washington and in London. This approach would call for an all-out effort, both in the United Nations and through normal diplomatic channels, to persuade the Kremlin that its Greek game is not worth the candle. It would be made clear to the Kremlin that the end result of an intensified drive on Greece would be establishment of a great Anglo-American military base within striking distance of the whole Soviet zone. Such a base might be in the Bengaul region in Africa, now held by the British by right of conquest. This possibility might cause the rulers in the Kremlin to think twice, since the establishment of such an Anglo-American base would certainly be vastly unwelcome to them.

Yet it is argued that if persuasion failed, such a base would provide precisely what American troops in Greece would not provide. It would provide the capacity to bring counter-pressure to bear, not merely at one point on the Soviet perimeter, but wherever a Soviet-sponsored push outward from the Soviet zone occurred.

These are the broad outlines of the main alternatives which the American policy makers are now debating. Of course the final decision may call for combining two or more of these alternatives —possibly the Greek army will be strengthened, while establishment of an Anglo-American base is held as an ace in the hole. The one alternative which is not being considered is a total American withdrawal from Greece. For the consequences of such a withdrawal are entirely predictable. Resistance to Soviet expansion all around the Soviet perimeter would immediately become mushy, and further Soviet expansion both into the Middle East and into Austria and Italy would only be a matter of time.

It was Friday, Jan. 6, 1928.

First steps were taken by the newly-organized Junior Chamber of Commerce to obtain an airport for Marion and to sponsor formation of a Better Business bureau.

Simon W. Motz, 75, of Owens Station became the county's first traffic victim of the year when he died at City hospital of pneumonia resulting from injuries in an automobile accident on Christmas day.

Plans for seven miles of improved highway in Salt Rock township prepared by County Surveyor C. R. Leavens were approved by the township trustees meeting at Morral.

Miss Jean DeWolfe returned to Milbrook, N. Y., where she resumed her studies at Miss Bennett's school for girls after spending the holidays here.

Marion county Democrats laid plans to launch the 1928 campaign in a meeting of party leaders at the office of Frank T. Campbell. A committee consisting of Ben T. Wiant, M. A. Mickley, M. O. Stoll, Mr Campbell and Hector S Young was appointed to arrange a countywide mass meeting.

CROSSTOWN By Roland Coe

"The hole in baby's drum is just about the size of your fist, Henry Smith!"

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Henry Takes the Road

Oh, see the Peerless leader, Hen,
Shove off as with "the strength of ten":
Oh, hear him as he blows the horn
And scatters far the chicken corn!

"I now accept," he cries, "Yoo hoo!"
(Though no one yet has asked him to;)
He gladly clasps the banner fair
That no one even knew was there.

* * *

"I know you're troubled," Henry cries;
"So ride with me and close your eyes!
Just wish for peace and hold my hand
Take nothing but the Wallace brand!

"You'll find in me a fellow who
Is both the captain and the crew . .
A leader with the slogan strong—
'All other men are extra wrong!'

"The Democrats have gone to pot
Since I from under them was shot;
Republicans are vicious, vile;
There is no party quite my style.

"Old Harry Truman is a fake—
His last name Mars, his first name Jake
It's all a deep Missouri Plan
To scuttle peace and wipe out man.

"The Marshalls, Byrnses and the rest
Are agents for an armored vest;
The White House since I left it flat
Is just a hole for Brother Rat.

"The plan to help all Europe out
Will bring on war, without a doubt;
The only man who sees things right
Is Moscow Joe who's very bright."

* * *

Hen cleared his throat and cried, "Be fair
To little men who are not there!
My type of pitcher, you can't bench—
So forward with a monkey wrench!"

"It isn't Russians who oppose
World peace; it is the Wall Street Joes;
No Russian's on Big Four at all. . .
Its just four guys from Broad and Wall

"Preparedness, oh, what a crime!
Its apt to save you any time.
I say I'll have no part of it;
When war comes I say 'Quick, the Flit'

"I trust I've cleared up everything
So now I wish of me you'd sing;
As Gideon I make my bid
But do not greet me 'Oh, you Gid!'

"Now to your corners strong and fleet
With two left-shoes on both your feet
And come out fighting fancy free. . .
If you get hurt, it isn't me!"

IN Russia's ousting of the King of Rumania you have the first case of a modern leader thinking he could get anywhere without a "mike" at his elbow.

There is no mystery in the disappearance of the original copy of that inflation bill from the White House. It just went up with everything else.

January Thaw

By TRUMAN TWILL

This is the time of the year when the January thaw gets up to the window sills on the ground floor and starts to ooze inside: when a dog returning from an airing looks like a last-place horse in the last race on a wet afternoon at Bowie; when a householder making a quick trip to the garbage can is smart if he ties a clothesline to himself and anchors the other end to the back porch;

When it's a fair question whether the kitchen linoleum always was the color of mud, or whether there's still something more attractive down underneath; when one lies in bed at night and tries not to hear the awful sound of civilization gurgling down to oblivion in quicksand; when thousands of loose-fitting overshoes get lost and won't be found till June;

When an automobile is a prisoner of the hard-roads movement that started in Missouri a generation ago and seems to have been a failure after all; when old-timers turn pale as they recall what it was like to huddle behind a disconsolate horse hitched to a high-wheel buggy and wait for the whole outfit to sink under them in the next muddy morass;

When mud on the farm is everywhere, like the flood closing in on Noah's houseboat; when mud in the city bubbles up between the cracks in the sidewalk and runneth over the edges; when old soldiers wake up at night shivering in horror as they recall endless days and nights of slogging and wallowing in the mud of foreign battlefields;

When armchair strategists recall that General Mud was the determining factor in great battles; when the paper boy misses the front steps and plunks the daily dingblatt into the middle of a puddle of primeval ooze just beyond reach; when children contrive to thwart landscape gardeners by surging back and forth over tender sod;

When the good earth is transformed from something tangible into a sodden mass dripping in a queasy gruel composed of equal parts of yellow clay and black soot; when nastiness rises from the ground and becomes a smear over everything that exists on the ground; when fastidious females splotches on their stockings; when claims of manufacturers about water-tight footwear turn to lies; when stray tin cans, wisps of paper, sticks and stones become flotsam in an abandoned backwater.

The January thaw is a national institution like dog days in August and spring rains in April. It has its place in the scheme of things It is the main reason why everybody who can spare the money and time goes to some other climate until the world they've left behind them becomes tenable again.

COMPULSORY MILITARY TRAINING—NO. 2

(This is the second of three stories on compulsory military training which may be a hot issue in the 1948 congress.)

WASHINGTON

HERE'S the plan now before congress for compulsory military training of youths 18 to 20.

They'd get six months training in a camp or on a ship. Then they'd have to take more training in school, the National Guard, or some other way.

This plan has the blessing of the Army and the American Legion. Both want compulsory military training started now.

It follows the ideas of the special civilian commission which President Truman last year appointed to look into a training plan.

MARLOW

It can't become law unless both houses of congress okay it. Neither has acted yet. Perhaps neither will this year.

And, if congress passes a training plan, it may differ from the one outlined here. But this is the only plan talked about.

If this plan became law, here's how it would work:

Cost—at least $2,000,000,000 a year.

Number trained—about 900,000 youths yearly.

Organization — these youths would not be part of the armed forces of the Army or Navy. They'd be members of a new organization called the National Security Training Corps.

Start—the program would start within about a year after congress made it a law. It would take that long to get the whole thing started.

Running it—the policies and the standards would be set up by a three-man commission called the National Security Training Commission, appointed by the President.

Handling it—the Army and Navy would train the youths in camps or on ships. But, as noted, the youths would not be in the armed services and could not be used by them for service inside or outside the United States except—

In case of a national emergency and then only by special act of congress.

Checks—the commission would have investigators to check on the way the Army and Navy were handling the training.

Advice—the commission would get advice on the moral, religious and educational sides of the program from a special advisory board.

THIS BOARD, WITH 10 to 25 members, mostly civilian, would be appointed by the President. It would meet from time to time.

Drafting—draft boards would induct the youths for training. The boards would be under a new agency called the selective training system.

Registering for draft—as soon as the law was passed, all youths between 17 and 20 would have to register but only those 18 to 20 could be drafted. Thereafter, each youth would have to register upon reaching 17.

Who'd get military training?—all youths, physically fit, between 18 and 20.

Conscientious objectors and the physically unfit—the commission would have to work out some kind of training for them.

For example: A youth unfit for military drill might be able to do clerical work; a conscientious objector might be trained in first-aid work.

Deferments — an 18-year-old who was in high school could get deferred until he had finished or reached 20, whichever was first.

AND THERE WOULD be deferments for extreme hardship cases. No youth who was serving, or had served honorably, in the armed forces could be drafted.

Pay—$30 a month for each trainee. If he had one dependent, he'd still get his $30 and the dependent would get $50. The government would pay two or more dependants a total of $65 a month.

Training—each draftee would get six months' military training in a camp or on a ship. But—

After those six months he wouldn't be finished. This is why:

After training six months he'd have his choice of a number of things he could do. He'd have to choose one of them. For example:

1. He could train another six months. That would mean a total of 12 months' training. Then he would be discharged, with no strings attached.

2. Or, having trained the first six months, he could go back into civilian life provided he joined the National Guard or some other reserve outfit.

If he joined the National Guard (he might have to join for three years) he'd have to drill one night a week and go away to camp for two weeks in the summer.

3. Or, having trained six months, he could go into the reserve officers training corp in the college he attended.

This would mean some drilling and military instruction for his four college years. Upon graduation, he'd be commissioned an officer in the reserves.

There are other choices a trainee, after six months of training, could make. Those listed here just some of them.

STUDENTS PRESENT PROGRAM FOR CLUB

Shovel Co. Foremen Entertained at Hotel Harding.

It was a case of mutual entertainment when eighty members of the Marion Power Shovel Co. Foremen's Club entertained a group of Harding High school students at their monthly meeting at Hotel Harding Saturday night.

A short business meeting preceded the program which featured an hour of variety entertainment performed by a cast of Harding High students. A swing band opened the show. It included Bob Wingett, Jim Wanner, Wallace Musgrave, Dick Umbaugh, Carl Porter, Fred Lacey, Harland Ambrose, Jim Coss, Ronald Cox, Bob Reese, Clark Daugherty, Fred Halt, and Dick Madison. Other numbers included a comedy team, "Homer and Jethroe" played by Bernard Lyon and Jim Rea; a piano solo, "Bumble Boogie", by Mary Ellen Hinamon; quartet numbers by the "Catmen", Jack Hoffman, Jim Coss, Jim Hill, and Bob Ralston; Dick Madison, a drum solo, "Dark Eyes"; with band sextet; songs by the Quiver choir composed of Mary Ellen Hinamon, Polly Biggert, Marjorie Middleton, Rose Marie Hinamon, Betty Parsons, Betty Weiser, Ann Ferguson, Jim Rea, Jack Hoffman, Bob Ralston, Bernard Lyon, Dick Rhoades, and Orland Beveridge and piano solo, "The Man I Love", Fred Lacey.

Harvey T. Gracely, Shovel Co. president, lauded the students for their fine performance and expressed the thanks of the Foremen's club and the company for the entertainment. A luncheon honoring the entertainers followed the show.

Entertainment Chairman Richard Myers of the Foremen's club arranged the program.

MEAT RATION PLAN FAVORED

G.O.P. and Democratic Senators Approve Proposal To Set Up Machinery.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 — Proposals to set up meat rationing machinery on a stand-by basis won the endorsement today of Senators Ives (R-NY) and Murray (D-Mont).

While the meat issue simmered, President Truman's cabinet food committee decided to eliminate eggless Thursdays after this week but to continue its appeal for meatless Tuesdays.

James A. Stillwell, food conservation director, announced this step is being taken because of a seasonal increase in the supply of eggs.

Stillwell noted on behalf of the cabinet food committee that the supply of livestock, on the other hand, is diminishing. The committee took the stand that for this reason it is imperative meatless Tuesdays be continued even though meat "may be offered in non-cooperating restaurants and hotels."

Meat Shortage Coming

The meatless and eggless days, along with poultryless days, were inaugurated last October to save grain for relief shipments abroad. Poultryless Thursdays were abandoned in November.

The agriculture department has predicted a meat shortage will develop in the spring. With this in mind, Senator Flanders (R-Vt) plans to introduce legislation which would authorize the department to make plans for meat rationing.

Under Flanders' proposal, still another act of congress would be required to put rationing into effect.

Ives termed Flanders idea "a very sensible procedure," and added:

"If it should turn out that we need rationing, then we would be all ready for it and no time would be wasted."

Ives said he would not hesitate to vote to put a rationing program into opertion if a serious meat shortage materializes.

No Price Increase

The bill being drafted by Flanders contemplates no price controls on meat. Ives said he was glad of that because price ceilings "would curtail production" of meat.

But Murray, while in favor of setting up rationing machinery, said he believes "we would have to have price controls if we had rationing."

As for getting a rationing plan ready Murray said:

"It seems to me that all of the government agencies concerned with this explosive economic situation ought to be looking ahead and making specific plans."

Like Ives, Murray said he would vote for a rationing program "if a critical meat shortage develops."

George A. Crowley Advanced by Illinois Firm.

A former Marion man, George A. Crawley of Peoria, Ill. manager of the Block and Kuhl's retail store in that city, has been elected vice president and appointed manager of the firm's largest retail unit at Peoria, Ill. He will take over his new position Feb. 1 and will become a member of the firm's executive committee at that time. Mr. Crawley is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Crawley and a brother of Mrs. Rex H. Robinson of 346 Summit street. The Crawley family lived on South Prospect street here.

With the company 19 years, Mr. Crawley is one of the pioneer store managers. He took over the managership of the Block and Kuhl Aurora store in 1929 and four years ago was given the added responsibility of supervising the firm's retail units in Elgin and Wilmetka. The Peoria store is the largest department store in the middle west with the exception of those in Chicago and St. Louis.

Mr. Crawley is a director of the Merchants National bank in Aurora, second vice president of the Aurora Association of Commerce, a director of the Aurora Kiwanis club and a member of the Elks club and the Aurora Country club.

Mr. Crawley attended Harding High school and prior to leaving Marion to go to Bay City, Mich., 23 years ago, was employed at the Charles Smith Clothing store. In Bay City he was associated with the William R. Knepp Co. and from there joined the Block and Kuhl organization at Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. Crawley have one daughter, Peggy Joan, a senior in the Aurora High school. Mrs. Crawley before their marriage was Miss Mary Rettig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Rettig of Merkle avenue.

Social Affairs

FOLLOWING an annual custom, members of the Research club opened the last half of their 1947-48 club season Monday with a luncheon and annual election of officers. Mrs. W. A. Dorsey was hostess at her home at 293 South Vine street. The luncheon was served at a table centered with a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums by the social committee, composed of Mrs. W. A. Muntsinger, Mrs. C. F. Smith, Mrs. R. C. Alexander and Mrs. Nellie Irey.

Mrs. Gladys Arter was elected president for the new club year, and serving with her will be Mrs. W. D. McGee, vice president, Mrs. Smith, recording secretary, Mrs. B. D. Osborn, corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. F. Neidhart, treasurer, and Mrs. H. E. Webster, critic.

Named to serve on committees were Mrs. E. E. Sletvold, Mrs. W. C. Richardson and Mrs. Irey, program committee, and Mrs. C. J. Watrous, Mrs. C. H. Indoe and Mrs. Dorsey, social committee.

Mrs. McGee, president, presided for the meeting, and members responded to roll call with "Suggestions for Next Year's Study." Mrs. Earl B. Padgett of Galion, state parliamentarian, was present and gave a talk on parliamentary law. She also reviewed an article entitled "Two Seas" by Bruce Barton. Mrs. Padgett was introduced by Mrs Sletvold. Also for the program, Mrs. C. H. Indoe sang two solos, "My Friend," Malotte, and "Try Smiling," by Rogers, with Mrs. Arter at the piano.

The next meeting will be Jan 19 with Mrs. H. S. Ruhl of 288 Lafayette street.

MRS. ROBERT VANCE of 247 East Church street was hostess for the first meeting of the new year for members of the Junior Circle, Child Conservation League, last evening. Speaker for the program was Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, V. F., pastor of St. Mary Catholic church. Speaking on the topic, "Spiritual Development of the Child," he emphasized the need of spiritual development coinciding with the mental growth of the child and urged an early beginning of religious training. Mrs. John Turner, president, reported on a meeting of the League board at which time plans were made for a meeting Feb. 23 in St Paul's Episcopal parish house at which time husbands of the memberts will be guests. Speaker for the meeting will be Dr Tennyson Guyer of Ohio City. Mrs. Robert Minard was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Betty Aldrich was a guest when the Happy Hours Euchre club met recently with Miss Almeda Christian on Davids street. High honors and the consolation award in cards went to Mrs. Earline Christian and Mrs. Margaret Conley, and penny box prizes were won by Miss Carrie Foster and Mrs. Josie Foster. At the next meeting with Miss Violet Conley of 545 Bartram avenue, the birthday anniversary of Mrs Margaret Conley will be honored

Richard Granlee, a student at Ohio Northern university in Ada, spent the holidays here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs J. W. Granlee of 606 Wilson avenue. Mr Granlee is majoring in business education at the university, and is a member of the university chorus-choir and the dramatic club.

Lecture-Recital Club Tryouts Set Thursday

A call is being made for those who wish to try out for membership in Lecture-Recital club chorus to be prepared for tryouts Thursday night. Mrs A G. Birch, chairman in charge, announced today. Tryouts for either soloists or members of the club chorus will be held at 9 p. m. Thursday, following first rehearsal of the chorus for the new year. The chorus will meet at the Republican headquarters hall at 7:30 p m., and all members are urged to be present to begin rehearsals for the spring concert, it was stated. Miss Elizabeth Edgar is chorus director. Those who wish to complete tryout for membership or any one who knows of others who would like to try out may call Mrs. Birch at 3224, previous to the designated time, she stated.

New Club "75" Holds Dance At Columbian Hall

A SOCIAL EVENT early in the new year was an informal dance held Saturday evening in Columbian hall by Club "75," a newly organized dance club. The dance, the first one of the club's season, was a get-acquainted affair, and each member and guest had his name on a card pinned to his lapel. Seventy couples danced from 9 to 12 to music by Glenn Johnson and his orchestra. A number of out-of-town guests were present for the affair.

Chairmen of the host and hostess committee in charge of arrangements were Mr. and Mrs Francis Blake, assisted by Mr. and Mrs John Holliday, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Andrews, and Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Montgomery.

Officers of the club, which will hold monthly dances, are Max Sechrist, president, Merle Peacock, vice president, Mr. and Mrs Ronald Bish, secretary and treasurer, and Robert Sweney and Robert Minard, directors.

Weddings

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Violet Boganwright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Clarence A. Boganwright of Martel, to James W. Leathem, son of Mr. Jay Leathem of Cardington and Mrs. Clarence McClurg of Galion. The double ring ceremony was read Tuesday, Dec. 30, at 7.45 o'clock in the evening at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs Herman F. Miers of 442 North State street, Marion. SAY THREAT OF WAR FORCED KING OUT

By International News Service

LAUSANNE, Jan. 6—Sources close to ex-King Michael revealed today that a threat by the Communist-controlled Romanian government to throw tens of thousands of persons into jail and plunge Romania into civil war responsible for Michael's abdication

This was described as the form of ruthless pressure applied to the 26-year-old sensitive and impressionable youth to force him to sign an act liquidating the monarchy in Romania and paving the way for establishment of a Soviet puppet state.

The information constituted the first specific revelation of reasons for Michael's sacrifice of his throne.

The disclosure was made after one member of the former monarch's entourage said negotiations still are continuing with the Communist Bucharest regime on behalf of Michael for some financial settlement.

This source disclosed that Michael postponed his departure into exile for several days trying to reach a financial settlement but finally left his homeland for Switzerland without getting an agreement.

The Communist-controlled government which forced Michael's abdication was said to have promised to continue discussion of financial matters with the ex-king's personal representative, Dr. Ion Popescu.

The financial plight of the exmonarch, who entered exile in Switzerland yesterday with comparatively little funds, was said to be one of the main reasons why Michael has been reluctant to denounce his treatment by government leaders in Romania He is described as fearing that any full blast against the leftist regime now might cut him off without a cent for the Red Cross in October would be refunded if donors applied.

In Columbus, state Red Cross officials said the policy was adopted in 1942, with the approval of President Roosevelt, honorary national chairman.

The question of affiliation with community chests or other fund-raising organizations was the subject of considerable discussion before the war, they said, with a majority of chapters expressing themselves as opposed to affiliation.

By 1938, they said, about 400 chapters throughout the country were affiliated, but many were not able to carry on their full Red Cross program with their shares of community chest donations.

Some large chapters, they added, shrank in size as a result, and consequently a policy of independence of all other organizations in money drives was adopted.

A situation similar to the one in Van Wert, though not so far advanced, now exists in Pittsburgh, state officials reported.

Should the revocation go through, they added, the Van Wert chapter will be the first in the country to lose its charter for any reason.

MacArthur Message Called Non-Political

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, Jan. 6—General MacArthur's message to Wisconsin mentioning the great satisfaction "reflected in the selection by one's neighbors for public service" has no bearing on whether he will run for president, informed headquarters sources emphasized today.

MacArthur himself was silent, and the opinion is growing here that he will remain silent on this topic for some time. His only comment has been that he would remain in Japan until a peace treaty is signed.

In response to a Wisconsin request, the general had radioed congratulations on the state's centennial celebration. The Wisconsin secretary of state, Fred R. Zimmerman, quoted MacArthur's comment on public service and said this "meant he would perform any public service he was called upon to perform."

'Miss Paris' To Wed Columbus Man

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 6—A former GI and his bride to be, "Miss Paris of 1947," plan to leave tonight or tomorrow for Columbus, O., and be married "within a week."

Former Pfc. Ray Mack, 33, of Columbus was waiting at the dock yesterday when Miss Kay Trevil, 24, arrived aboard the Holland America liner Westerdam.

Mack said they visited last night with friends and then Miss Trevil wanted to go out and "see the sights of Broadway."

He said he expected getting a license, having blood tests made and other wedding preparations would take several days after they returned to Columbus, but that he was sure they would "be married within a week."

Miss Trevil, whom Mack met two years ago while he was managing the Star Dust club, then a U.S. Army GI club near Heidelberg, Germany, told reporters she planned to tour in this country with a French variety troupe which Mack will manage. He now is credit manager of a Columbus clothing store.

Mack said he planned to have about 40 people in the show and open it on Feb. 2, perhaps in Columbus. Starring with Miss Trevil, Mack said, would be two Hungarian dancers, Emmy and Larry Sugho. He plans to have 20 Parisian show girls in the troupe.

Raising of $100,000 to donate to veterans hospitals throughout the country will be one objective of the show tour, Mack said. The plans also call for touring GI hospitals to entertain the veterans, and possibly a radio program to entertain the veterans.

transfer lend-lease military equipment to the Greek government.

The equipment, surplus to British needs, already is in Greece, the department said, but no inventory is available.

The manpower increase for the Greek armed forces was the second authorized by the United States since the $300,000,000 aid program went into effect. Last September a temporary increase of 20,000 men and an additional permanent increase of 10,000 men for the army was authorized. The Greeks had asked an increase of 70,000 men.

The conservative newspaper Embros quoted refugees from the Grammos mountains today as saying that the self-proclaimed Greek Communist government of Markos Vafiades had established itself in the tiny mountain village of Lykorachi.

appreciation was tendered Mr. Barnhart by the board for his efficiency and service.

Wish Holt Good Luck

The board also took this occasion to express publicly its appreciation of the service of Superintendent Holt in the Marion schools, to express regret at his leaving and to wish him success in his new field. "We feel he has done a fine job here and through his seven and one-half years of service has helped to place Marion in an enviable place in the field of education," Clerk Torrance said in speaking for the board of education.

The annual budget certified for use during 1948 was presented by Clerk Torrance and adopted as follows: Balance on hand in the general fund, $23,559.15; to be received from local taxes $378,397.66; to be received from the state foundation $414,527; to be received from other sources $30,022.77, making a grand total of $846,585.61. Estimated expenditures listed are as follows: administrative including salaries of instructors, $681,227.60, supplies $50,350, repairs, water, electricity, telephone and other operative expenditures $56,400. Bonded indebtedness showed a balance of $23,602.98; to be received from local taxes $177,926.95, and interest on bonds $184,620.

Upon the recommendation of Supt. Holt Mrs. Mildred Buente, now on leave, was granted a leave of absence during the second semester and Mrs. Audrey Luginbuhl was reemployed as teacher in the third grade at Pearl street in her absence. The board also reappointed Mrs. E. G. Siefert to serve as a member of the board of trustees of the City library for a term of seven years. Other routine business included the presentation by Supt. Holt of a list of salaries for 1946-47 showing the increases now being paid in 1947-48, and also the attendance records for all buildings for the study by the board.

Completing the business session was the adoption of the board of a motion to hold monthly meetings the first Monday night of each month instead of afternoons. Meetings will be held at 7:30 o'clock at the administration building.

HEALTH SEAL SALE RECEIPTS $4,407

Reports Still Due from Many Who Received Stamps.

An amount totaling $4,407.63 has been received to date in the fifty-first annual Christmas Health Seal campaign in Marion county, according to a report today from Mrs. W. E. Miley, executive secretary of the Marion County Tuberculosis and Health association. This total $1,092.37 short of the county goal which is $5,500.

Money contributions to this campaign in the fight against tuberculosis are still coming in daily, Mrs. Miley said, but there is still a large number of letters out. Those persons to whom stamps were sent out and who are not heard from by Jan. 15, will receive reminder cards after that date, urging them to reply as soon as possible.

The entire proceeds realized from the campaign will be used to combat tuberculosis, to detect symptoms of the disease through the use of X-ray, and to provide the necessary treatment for cures.

Freight Rate Pleas Before State Board

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 6—The state public utilities commission had under advisement today pleas of the railroads for increases in intra-state freight rates in line with the increases in interstate rates granted by the interstate state commerce commission.

Following an informal discussion with representatives of Ohio shippers and the railroads yesterday afternoon, Harry M. Miller, chairman of the state commission, said a decision in regard to intra-state freight rates would be announced shortly.

Shippers contended that any further increases in intra-state rates would be "unjust and unreasonable." A 10 per cent increase in intra-state freight rates was granted by the state commission last fall.

To Name Delegates

Democratic central committee members also were to pick 44 district delegates — each with a full vote — and 12 delegates-at-large—each with half a vote.

Following the central committee meeting, Chairman Horstman planned to receive reports on Democratic tickets in the state's 88 counties. Horstman said he was interested in having a full ticket in each county.

The Republican executive and central committee will meet tomorrow noon to pick its slate of national convention delegates. The committee already has endorsed Sen. Robert A. Taft for the presidential nomination.

Officers Are Elected By Democratic Club

Officers for the coming year were elected at a meeting of the Marion County Democratic club last night in Democratic headquarters. Preceding the meeting members of the Women's Division of the Marion County Democratic club met for a short business session during which plans were made for a potluck supper to be held at a joint meeting of the two organizations on Feb. 2.

Harold Clark, who filled out the unexpired term of Robert Solinger as head of the county organization, was elected president for 1948. Walter Haberman was elected vice president, Miss Stella Kraner, secretary and Kenneth Tobin, treasurer. Elected to serve as a board of directors were Harry Armstrong of LaRue, Harold McDaniel, Harold Smith, E. J. Neidig and Mrs. Joseph Socie. Mr. Clark presided for the meeting. Plans were discussed for activities for the coming campaign. A number of candidates seeking nomination in the primaries, were present.

DAYTON, O., Jan. 6—Atomic energy commission officials today launched an investigation into the cave-in of an underground concrete passage being built at the Monsanto atomic research plant at nearby Miamisburg.

Eight workmen were injured, one critically, last night when 30 to 60 tons of concrete, newly-laid over the passage, cascaded into the 30-foot-long tunnel, Kenneth Dunbar, area manager for the atomic energy commission, reported.

Three workmen were inside the underground chamber when part of the cement let go. Several companions rushed to their aid, but five of them were trapped in a second slide.

Only James Cronk, of Cincinnati, one of those working inside, required hospitalization, Dunbar said. The others were treated on the scene and released.

Frank Callahan, chief security officer for the atomic energy commission, said he sent out emergency calls for ambulances, doctors and nurses "throughout the area because we didn't know how many were trapped under the concrete."

Two hours after the fall, Callahan reported that "all men are accounted for."

Glenn Maxon Sr., a Dayton contractor whose men were building the passage, described the cave-in as "apparently just one of those things."

Both he and officials of the Monsanto Chemical Works, operators of the plant, joined the atomic energy commisison investigation.

Snow on Highways Cause 2 Accidents

Snow covered highways near Marion caused two minor traffic accidents today, the state highway patrol reported.

A car driven by Frankford Flotz of near Cardington skidded and ran into the rear of a car driven by Howard Carpenter of Mt. Gilead at 6 a. m. today on route 61 about three miles north of Mt. Gilead. The front end of the Flotz car was damaged.

A car driven by Marion Howison, 39, of Richwood, and a 1½ ton truck driven by Abraham Wells, 27, of Dayton sideswiped while passing on route 4 about seven miles south of Marion at 6:45 a. m. today, damaging the left side of the car and the front end of the truck. George McIntyre, 45 of Richwood, a passenger in the car was bruised in the accident.

HONORED BY DOCTORS. Dr. Archer C. Sudan, of Dremmling, Colo., has been named by the American Medical Association, in convention in Cleveland, as the family practitioner who has made the greatest contribution in service to his community. (International Photo.)

2 YOUNG ESCAPEES CAPTURED AT CAREY

By International News Service

UPPER SANDUSKY, Jan. 6—Two teen-age boys who escaped from the bureau of juvenile research in Columbus and stole four cars in a 70-mile flight, were held in the Wyandot county jail at Upper Sandusky today.

The boys, 16 and 15, said they hitched a ride to Marysville where they stole an automobile and drove it to Kenton. There they took another car and drove to Sycamore, where two more were stolen.

The 16-year-old boy was sent to Columbus Bureau after a series of burglaries and auto thefts at Upper Sandusky. The 15-year-old boy was sent to the bureau from Cincinnati for truancy.

SNOW MAKES OHIO DRIVING HAZARDOUS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 6—Snow falling over most of Ohio today caused slippery roads south and west of a line from Sandusky through Mansfield and Millersburg to Bellaire while temperatures ranged from 26 to 36 degrees, the state highway department reported.

The weather bureau forecast continued cold and snow for the entire state.

Only the northeast section of the state and a small area in the north central were free of snow, although Gallipolis, Pomeroy, Batavia and Caldwell reported snow melted as it touched the ground.

High water closed route 720 between routes 69 and 33 near Indian Lake, but the remainder of the highways were reported normal for the weather conditions.

Snow removal crews began working early this morning and county work crews spread cinders on slippery spots.

Snow started falling in Columbus at 3:15 a. m. and was two inches deep at 10 a. m.

EDISON DRIVER CITED

Edward Bowman, 40, of Edison, was arrested by the state highway patrol at 12:10 a. m. today on route 95 west of Mt. Gilead and charged with driving an unsafe vehicle. He is to appear before Mt. Gilead Mayor Bennington tonight to answer the charge.

SAM RAYBURN

Born Jan. 6, 1882

RAYBURN

Former speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives and now minority leader, Sam Rayburn comes from north Texas. His prize cattle and fresh turnip greens share his interest in national and international problems.

He was born in Roane County, Tenn., but his parents moved to Texas when he was a child. Sam worked his way through college. He studied law while a member of the Texas legislature. He started to practice at Bonham, Texas. But after six years in the legislature, he ran for congress where he has served since 1913. His constituents elect him with clocklike regularity every term.

Guernsey Breeders To Meet in Wyandot Co.

Guernsey breeders of Wyandot and surrounding counties are invited to attend a meeting to be held Wednesday, Jan. 14, at the Bow and Arrow Tavern on the south edge of Upper Sandusky, under the sponsorship of the Guernsey Association, it was announced today. Reservations for the dinner are to be made with the secretary of the association, Ray Musgrave of Wharton, not later than Jan. 10. The meeting will start at 10:30 a. m.

Speakers will be R. L. Holden of Lafayette, Ind., American Guernsey Cattle club representative, and Floyd S. Barlow of Wooster, field secretary of the Ohio Guernsey Breeders association. This will be Mr. Barlow's last meeting in Wyandot county, it is expected, as his retirement from active service in a year has already been announced.

Business will include the election of officers of the association for 1948. Vaughn Bell is anticipating a large turnout of all Guernsey breeders in the county to help make plans for a larger and better 4-H club next year. Plans also will be made for a sale of cattle on the fairgrounds next fall, the officers announce.

Steel Prices Are Still Low

GOVERNMENT figures show that average wholesale prices of all commodities today are about 110 percent above 1939.

By comparison, these figures show that the current price of steel at the mills is only about 47 percent higher, on the average, than it was in 1939.

If steel prices had gone up as much as other commodity prices, the pound of steel which today sells at the mill for just over 3¢ would be selling for nearly 5¢.

COLUMBUS VISITOR BAFFLED BY BUSES

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 6 — A young Kentucky mother lost herself in "the big city" for 12 hours yesterday because buses traveling down a street at one point don't travel the same route elsewhere.

Mrs. Elizabeth Moore, 22, of Inez, Ky., was reunited with her friend, Mrs. Pauline Maynard, shortly before midnight when Mrs. Maynard called police to report her missing.

Mrs. Moore's problems began yesterday morning when she left her four-month-old daughter in care of a "sitter" at Pauline's home and went with her friend "on a bus that runs on wires (a trackless trolley)."

"We went to the place where Pauline works—some kind of a venetian blind company," she told police. "Then I left, certain I could find my way home."

She boarded the first trackless trolley to pass by, "but it didn't go anyplace that I knew." By the time she contacted police, she couldn't remember Pauline's married name—only her girlhood name of "Pauline Stepp."

"I'm not scared for myself," she told officers, "but I'm so terribly worried about my baby."

Police failed to locate Mrs. Maynard, nee Pauline Stepp, after contacting every venetian blind and glass company in town.

Today, Mrs. Moore promised that the next time she would write down the Maynard address and put it in her purse.

Ohio Labor Union Sponsors Army Unit

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Jan. 6 — The Cleveland Building Trades Council, which numbers 28,000 skilled workmen among the membership of its 22 AFL-affiliated unions, today became one of the first large labor organizations in the country to sign up to sponsor and train reserve units in the United States Army's "affiliation" program.

Under an agreement concluded with officers of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, the organization's officers signed to sponsor a utility detachment of 30 men and two officers and as many utility units as are required by the engineer corps.

Lt. Col. H. C. Woods, senior civilian assistant to Col. H. D. Vogel, U. S. district engineer of the Buffalo district, indicated the one unit was "just a starter."

"This union," Col. Woods added, "will have in it plumbers, carpenters, painters, electricians and other men skilled in their peacetime pursuits. It will enable them, in the event of a future national emergency, to help out in the maintenance of any building or plant of some army installation such as a camp, a training center, a base or any other facility that may be necessary for operations."

Authorities estimate that Michigan farmers lose $250,000 annually from fires caused by spontaneous combustion of hay.

PLUMBROOK PLANT SALE SCHEDULED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 — The war assets administration told congress today it hopes to dispose of 10 explosives manufacturing plants within the next few months.

In a special report to the congressional presiding officers, acting administrator Jess Larson indicated the plants probably will have to be sold for dismantling for several reasons, one of which is their poor location for peacetime use, even if converted to other purposes. Eleven such wartime plants cost the government $609,083,000. One the Chickasaw ordnance plant at Millington, Tenn., was sold last October. Others, their cost and dates they will be offered for sale include: Jan. 23—West Virginia Ordnance Plant, Point Pleasant, cost, $31,083,000; Plumbrook Plant, Sandusky, O., $50,474,000.

DEMOCRATIC COLLEAGUE TO BACK TAFT BILLS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) will have the support of the ranking Democrat on his committee for the social welfare legislation he has said should be enacted this year.

"I shall be found voting with Senator Taft on public health and school aid bills," Senator Thomas (D-Utah) told a reporter.

Thomas, former chairman of the labor and public welfare committee, has advocated such legislation for several years.

He told a reporter that, while he might not agree with Taft on details, he feels the basic objective is worth a compromise.

"We will get the science foundation bill this session," he predicted.

Tired, "All-In"—Listless Feeling Brought To Halt

As Vibrant Energy is Released To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Do you get up in the mornings stiff tired, feel down-and-out all day? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Overwork, undue worry, cold, flu or other illness often wears down the red-blood-cells.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that 666 Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the 666 Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, 666 Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on 666 Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. 666 Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

THIRTEEN RESCUED FROM ROCK IN SEA

By The Associated Press

KODIAK, ALASKA, Jan. 6—Thirteen persons, including a mother and her six children, sped toward Kodiak aboard a Coast Guard cutter and Navy tug today for hospitalization after being rescued from an ice-sheathed point of the Alaska peninsula where they had been stranded for up to five days.

Ten of the frost-bitten survivors were aboard the wrecked cannery tender Spencer, which smashed into the rocks opposite Kodiak Island New Year's eve and broke up in the pounding swells.

All are reported suffering from frost bite and exposure but are not believed to be in serious condition.

The other three were volunteer rescuers from the Navy tug Matanco who struggled to shore after their small boat overturned Saturday night in a daring attempt to reach the stranged party.

The rescue, balked for three days by 60-mile an hour winds and gale-tossed seas, was completed yesterday during a lull in the storm. Although only five miles from the village of Kanatak, the scene was unreachable by land because of high cliffs and impassable terrain.

Dodge Introduces New Trucks

Among the 248 basic gross vehicle weight chassis models just announced in the new Dodge "Job-Rated" truck line is this B-1-H tractor of 128-inch wheelbase, 15,500 pounds gross vehicle weight (1¼-ton nominal rating) and 28,000 pounds gross train weight. The trucks have many new features.

Dodge Offers 248 Trucks in New Line

DETROIT, MICH., Jan. 6, 1948.—A completely new line of Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks comprising 248 basic chassis models ranging from 4250 to 23,000 pounds gross vehicle weight and up to 40,000 pounds gross train weight was announced today by L. F. Van Nortwick, Director of Truck Sales of the Dodge Division, Chrysler Corporation.

Some models of the new trucks will be displayed starting January 7 by Ardrey Motor Sales, Inc., in Marion, Ohio.

A combination of massive strength and smoothly flowing lines is the keynote of styling for the new trucks. They were designed to combine appearance with comfort, safety, performance, economy and ease of handling.

Front axles have been moved back and engines have been moved forward to place more of the gross vehicle weight on the front axle and provide better weight distribution. The wheelbase for conventional models through the 2-ton has been reduced eight inches, while the 2½- and 3-ton models have been reduced six inches. The new trucks have been engineered so that despite the shorter wheelbases, the cab-to-axle dimensions remain practically unchanged, making it possible to use the same length bodies as before.

New ease of handling and driving has been provided by the shorter wheelbases and wider tread front axle, together with cross steering, which is a new feature on all conventional cab models. The cross steering permits a 37-degree turning angle both right and left. Drivers now can park or back into alleys or up to loading platforms with much greater ease. Road shock through the steering wheel is greatly reduced by the cross steering, which has the drag link running parallel with the front axle.

Standard, deluxe and custom cabs provide more room, more visibility, more safety and more comfort for the driver. Seat width has been increased to 57¼ inches to permit three large men to ride without crowding. The chair-height seats provide leg support under the knees and can be adjusted seven inches. The natural back support also is adjustable for maximum comfort.

The seat cushion utilizes air in combination with coil springs to provide comfort. A hand control allows the driver to adjust cushion buoyancy to his weight or road conditions.

Comfort in any season or weather is provided by an all-weather heating and ventilating system which is an ingenious combination of truck heater, defroster vents, vent windows, cowl ventilator and fresh air intake.

Deluxe and custom cabs have what is termed "360-degree vision" through increased glass area and installation of rear quarter windows. Windshields and windows of the new "Pilot-House" cabs are higher and wider, adding to vision and safety. Drivers can enter or leave the conventional cab easily from either side since the gear shift and emergency brake levers have been moved forward to give clear floor space from door to door.

Conventional models can be road-serviced from the left side as the fuel tank, oil filler, radiator filler and battery are all located.

Dodge has seven different engines to handle the power requirements of its new line. Numerous engine improvements have been made.

Engine cooling systems are larger and improved. Fuel tanks in many cases have increased fuel-carrying capacity. Front, rear and transfer axles have been redesigned to increase their strength. Radiator cores have been redesigned to increase their cooling efficiency. Exceptional improvements have been made in frame construction.

It's Michigan 2 to 1 in Latest AP Poll of Wolverine-Irish Strength

Midwest Heaviest Backers of Crislermen, Indiana, Home of Irish, Splits Vote

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 6—The burning sports question of the day—which was the greater college football power of 1947, Michigan or Notre Dame?—never to be settled on the field, was answered today at the ballot box—and it's Michigan almost two to one.

In a special Associated Press poll of sports editors and football writers from coast to coast, Michigan received 226 votes as the superior team to 119 for the Irish, while 12 of the experts suggested the two midwest giants should be rated equal.

A total of 357 writers, from each of the 48 states and the District of Columbia, took part in the "post-poll" poll, conducted by popular demand as the result of the New Year's day game that saw Michigan's' unbeaten, untied Wolverines smash Southern California in the Rose Bowl, 49-0.

The new ballot does not supersede The Associated Press' regular final season rating of college football teams, released last Dec. 8 which named Notre Dame the mythical national champion with Michigan the runnerup.

The 146 writers who cast ballots in that one gave the Irish 1,410 points to 1,289 for the Wolverines and awarded Notre Dame 107 first place votes, with Michigan getting only 25 and the other No. 1 tags going elsewhere.

Irish Won Regular Poll

The Irish, who led the nation's list through seven of the 10 weeks of the campaign, won in the regular poll after a decisive 38-7 triumph over the same Southern California Trojans.

Many of the participants in the latest roll-call acknowledged their opinions were swayed largely by comparative scores which in two other instances swung the pendulum toward Fritz Crisler's men of Michigan.

Against the other two common opponents, the teams fared this way: Michigan walloped Pitt 49-0, while Notre Dame did the job a little more mercifully, 40-6. The Wolverines rolled over Northwestern, 49-21, while the Irish who also had a perfect season trounced the Wildcats, 26-19.

Notre Dame supporters argued comparative scores should be no gauge because the Irish were inclined to "pull their punches."

Michigan drew its heaviest backing from the midwest—stamping grounds of the Big Nine—and even Notre Dame's home state, Indiana, voted even on the issue, eight to eight. The Wolverines received 29 votes within their home state.

All-Time Greats

Two writers placed Michigan in the all-time great class.

"The best college team I've seen in 27 years of reporting," said Jim Schlemmer of the Akron (O.) Beacon Journal.

"The best in grid history," was the label tacked on the Wolverines by Al Chernin of the Bloomington, Ind., World Telephone.

W. E. Fox Jr. of the Indianapolis News said Notre Dame, "bearing down, had enough offense to score against any defense." But his contemporary—Bob Nesbit of the Terre Haute, Ind., Tribune—threw his lot with Michigan.

"Both Teams Fine," Says Fritz Crisler

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Jan. 6—Coach Fritz Crisler of Michigan, informed today that the nation's sports writers had rated his Wolverines superior to Notre Dame, commented that "the men who voted couldn't have made a mistake if they had picked either team."

Coach Leahy is a superb coach and both teams are fine. I am very humble, and happy for my kids about it all.

"When the early polls came in I found them very interesting but, frankly, I rather questioned their merit. I thought those who saw both teams play would have a better opinion. However, in this poll everyone was asked a simple question—to choose between the teams. That makes the result more interesting."

V.F.W., Bird-McGinnis, Navy Club Win Openers

City Vet League opened its '48 campaign on the hardwoods of the Armory last night in a three game show with Navy Club, V.F.W., and Bird McGinnis coming off on top.

G.I. Post was hard pressed to finish on the long end, defeating Navy Club by a one point margin, 27-26 in a practice game. The Navy Club won on a forfeit, but lost in the practice fray. Several ineligible men played on the G.I. Post team giving the Navy the official victory.

Bird McGinnis Post won with ease by a count of 36-11 in their game with the AMVETS. Monnette was high man with a total of 14.

V.F.W succeeded in downing Co. C, National Guard, in a hard fought game by a score of 31-27. This was the best game of the evening, highlighted by an individual duel between Bigford of Co. C, with 16 counters, and Owens for the V.F.W. with 14.

PREXIES TO PLAY BUCYRUS TONIGHT

Harding High's Presidents will meet the Bucyrus quintet at the Bucyrus High school gymnasium tonight.

Coach Kenny Somerlot expressed the opinion that the man to stop is Jim Gallant, the high scoring guard for Bucyrus, who is an experienced player with three previous seasons before him. Two other boys to watch are the Kibler twins, both juniors. Dick plays forward, and Bill is at a guard post. Coach Al Pesex and crew watched his boys defeat a fine Marion St. Mary squad earlier in the season.

The Prexies have been going through touching-up workouts, such as more accurate passing and harder driving on their breaks. These two things will spell victory if put into practice tonight. Clarence Smith and Merle Daum are being started on the reserve squad to help them gain experience for future Varsity play.

If the Presidents come up with a win tonight their season will be well under way with three wins and two losses.

Adult and student tickets will be on sale at the Bucyrus gymnasium. The reserve game is called for 7 p. m. and the varsity game at 8.

BATTLE ROYAL SET ON ARMORY CARD THURSDAY

A battle royal will feature the initial wrestling match of 1948 in the Armory Thursday, Les Fishbaugh, wrestling promoter announced today.

The five men on the card are: Dutch Schultz of Texas; "Stocky" Neilson of Birmingham; Dean Nenowf of Toledo; Rex Mobeley of Texas, and Tony Martingale of Milwaukee.

First man out of the battle will get a shower, the next two will grapple for semi-final money, and the last two will meet in the main, two-hour, two-out-of-three fall event.

The battle is scheduled to get underway at 8:30 p. m.

Bucks Lose To Iowa, Miami To Kentucky; B. G. and Fenn Win

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 6—Ohio State's grip on the No. 1 berth in the Big Nine collegiate basketball race was a thing of the past today.

Coach Tippy Dye's all-sophomore combination couldn't get going last night in the first half against undefeated Iowa, and the Hawks managed to stave off a blistering Buckeye rally to win, 49-41. It was Iowa, 36-18, at halftime.

Elsewhere around the state, Bowling Green, Fenn and Youngstown racked up victories against out-of-state rivals, but Kentucky's powerful Wildcats added Miami to an impressive list of Ohio victims, 67-53.

Bowling Green won its 13th in 15 starts, downing Albion of Michigan, 61-46; Fenn's Hap Martens scored in the last nine seconds to give the Clevelanders a 49-48 decision over Adrian of Michigan, and Youngstown tumbled Waynesburg, Pa., from the undefeated ranks, 67-54.

Tonight, Akron is at Mount Union, Cincinnati at Western Reserve, Portsmouth Business college at Wilberforce State and Rio Grande at Dayton. Unbeaten Western Reserve will be bidding for its ninth in a row.

Iowa Starts Strong

Iowa, opening its Big Nine campaign after six tune-up wins, started out as though it planned to drive Ohio State into the boards of the Columbus state fairgrounds coliseum.

The Bucks, tied for the Big Nine early lead after knocking off Northwestern Saturday, were in front against Iowa only in the opening minutes—and then by one point. Iowa's little Murray Wier found the range early and the Hawks never were headed, although they were completely outplayed in the second half. Wier was the game's high scorer with 17, with Dick Schnittker's 14 pacing the Buckeyes.

Bee Gees Never Falter

Bowling Green's powerhouse never faltered against Albion. Coach Harold Anderson tried out three complete teams throughout the game, and used an "extra" player for good measure in the waning minutes. It was 38-23 in favor of the Bee-Gees at halftime.

Kentucky, among the nation's No. 1 outfits, jumped to a 10-point lead on Miami in the first three minutes, maintaining a comfortable margin the rest of the way. It was the 11th win in 12 tries for the Wildcats. Miaimi's nifty center, Bob Brown, led the scoring with 19 points.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh S. Fullerton Jr.

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 6—Buckeye sports facts and fancies:

Ohio's capital is one of the few spots in the country which will see both 1948 Rose Bowl teams in action next fall. Southern California, 49-0 loser to Michigan in the big event—but a 32-0 winner over Ohio State—comes back to battle the Bucks Oct. 2. And the wily Wolverines, held to a surprisingly low 21-0 score by Ohio, visit the Buck stadium Nov. 20 for the grand finale.

The Pacific Coast conference, which has scored only 14 points against 94 in the last two Rose Bowl games with the Big Nine champs, won't have to put up with Michigan next fall. The five-year contract says the same team can't represent the Western conference two years in a row in the bowl.

* * *

RUMORS ARE RAMPANT that Sid Gillman, who coached Miami to an unbeaten season climaxed by a 13-12 Sun Bowl win over Texas Tech, is being deluged by flattering offers from larger colleges which have recognized his talents as a tutor. Be too bad for the Redskins to win all those games and then lose their coach, but Sid certainly has earned a chance at bigger game and may get it this week at the coaches' meeting in New York.

* * *

IN THESE DAYS of gigantic forwards and centers, it's a pleasure to see little Newt Oliver, a five-foot eight-inch sure-shot at little Rio Grande college, setting the hardwoods aflame.

Oliver, former Byesville High star, has hit the hoop for 135 points in five games—that's 27 per contest—and 60 of them came on free throws, an average of 12 per tilt. The kids from the Gallia county hill country have 27 games to go, so little Newt appears a cinch to break the national free throw record of 156 for a season.

If you want to see the little fellow in action, Rio Grande plays at Dayton U. tonight, at Steubenville Thursday night, and entertains Salem college Saturday night.

* * *

IN CONJUNCTION with The Associated Press' nationwide poll of sports writers on the question of Notre Dame-Michigan supremacy, the Columbus Dispatch asked its readers to get into the act and announce their choices.

"We thought we'd get 75 to 100 answers," said Paul Walker of the Dispatch sports staff, "but we received 3,450 votes. Nobody's going to believe the result but here it is: Michigan 1,731. Notre Dame 1,719."

All the ballots carried comment of some kind, one declaring:

"My unprejudiced vote is for Notre Dame." It was signed "Charles O'Hollihan."

Di Maggio Signs With New York Yankees

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 6—Joe DiMaggio, veteran New York Yankee outfielder who has been reported holding out for $75,000 for the 1948 season, has reached terms with the club, George Weiss, general manager said today.

Weiss did not announce the salary. DiMaggio was said to be getting from $40,000 to $45,000 last year.

DiMaggio's signing took place last night, Weiss said, in the apartment of Dan Topping, president of the club.

Caledonia Merchants To Meet Columbus Team

The Caledonia Merchants will entertain the Globetrawlers basketball team of Columbus Thursday night on the Caledonia hardwoods.

Playing coach of the Globetrotters is the "Wooden Leg Wonder," Billy Lea, a veteran athlete though handicapped with a wooden leg. Other players are Jim Spencer, John Gainer, Spike Spiller, Chuck Bush, Dezzie Harris, and El Tillman, all ex-high school cagers.

A preliminary game between junior high school teams of Grand Prairie and Caledonia will start at 7:30 p. m.

CAREY TO MEET IRISH HERE TONIGHT

St. Mary's cagers will play host to Carey in the local's second Mid-State league game of 1948 here tonight at the Edison gymnasium.

Carey's All-Ohio center Jim Dennison, who stands six feet four inches is the main bulwark on the Carey five. The whole offense is built around the big fellow Marysville defeated both St. Mary and Carey by one point, so there is bound to be an abundance of excitement and fast action.

The Irish have been working on accurate, speedy passing. John Baldauf and Dick Schuler will be paired at the forward spots. Jim Moloney will start at center while Bob Stuber and Dan Smith will hold down the guard positions. The Irish quintet will be ready and willing to upset the Carey aggregation without much urging.

The reserve game has been called for 7 p. m. and the varsity contest will start at 8.

AMATEUR FIGHTS WEDNESDAY NIGHT

A 10-round amateur boxing card featuring Marion and surrounding area fighters will be held Wednesday night in Schwinger's annex rather than Friday night as reported in yesterday's Star.

First fight is scheduled to start at 8:15 p. m.

All fighters are now matched, Promoter Jimmy Williams said today. Arrangements for additional bouts are being attempted. Williams said. Ward Moore of Delaware, former state welterweight champ may be matched in an exhibition bout.

Judges for the initial fight show are Ike Jones, Willie Benson, and Howard Hodges. Referee is Dr. A. J. Wagner.

The fights are being promoted with the idea of training Marion youths for the Golden Gloves and other amateur championship bouts to be held in the coming months.

Henrich Signs Contract With New York Yankees

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 — Tommy Henrich, the New York Yankees' regular right fielder, had a new contract today for 1948, and although there was no mention of the terms, it was believed certain a wage raise was included.

Henrich who batter .287 last year for his best season since 1940, came to terms after a 10-minute conference with General Manager George Weiss. The conference was held last Friday, but the Yankees withheld the announcement until yesterday.

As the No. 2 man in the New York batting order, Henrich drove in 98 runs in 1947, second only to Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox, who had 114.

10 OHIOANS RECEIVE MICHIGAN LETTERS

By The Associated Press

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Jan. 6 — Ten Ohioans or former Ohioans won major letter awards for football at the University of Michigan yesterday.

Coach H. O. (Fritz) Crisler announced awards to 35 members of the Michigan championship squad.

Letter winners included: Bob Chappuis, Toledo, O.; Gene Derricotte, Defiance, O.; George Johnson Columbus, O.; Dick Kempthorn, Canton, O.; Ralph Kohl Cleveland, O.; Ed McNeill, Toledo, O.; Stu Wilkins, Canton, O.; Irv Wisniewski, Lambertville; Alvin Wistert, Chicago, and Howard Yerges, Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., formerly of Columbus.

Veeck Sees Strong Tribe With One Additional Starting Pitcher

By LARRY SMITH
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND, Jan. 6—President Bill Veeck believes his Cleveland Indians will be "a very strong ball club" this year if one more starting pitcher is obtained.

Sport Shirt Bill isn't predicting any pennant but he sums up the tribal situation this way:

"Our infield is very good and we have plenty of catching. Our outfield is not bad, but we need one more starting pitcher. No matter whether he throws with his right hand, his left hand or with both hands. One more starting pitcher and we're pretty well set."

Veeck had a six-hour discussion of planning and personnel yesterday with Manager-Shortstop Lou Boudreau, Coaches Bill McKechnie and Herold (Muddy) Ruel and Vice President Harry Grabiner, a group that forms the Indians' top level board of strategy.

They analyzed the club's roster, position by position, and made final preparations for the Tribe's spring training camp which opens March 1 at Tucson, Ariz. They do not plan to meet again until that time.

Two Men at Each Post

Boudreau observed that there are at least two talented and experienced players at each position and he hopes the result will be a better day-by-day performance of each player, fighting to stay in the starting lineup.

"At third base, there'll be Ken Keltner, Eddie Bockman and Al Rosen," the Tribe pilot elaborated. "At second, Johnny Berardino and Joe Gordon and at first Eddie Robinson and Elbie Fletcher. The competition will be especially keen in the outfield with Hank Edwards, Walt Judnich, Dale Mitchell, Pat Seerey, Hal Peck and Allie Clark all able to win a starting job."

No Hegan Trade Seen

Veeck said he had no immediate plans for trading Jim Hegan, considered by many to be the league's best catcher.

"Right now Hegan is our catcher," Veeck added. "If somebody comes along that likes him better than we do and is willing to give us what we want for him, then we'll trade But until then, Hegan is our catcher.

Ruel, the former St. Louis Browns manager, said he believes Judnich, Berardino and pitcher Bob Muncrief, who were his charges at St. Louis last year, will benefit by their new association and their refreshed attitude should make quite a difference.

HOGAN WINS L.A. OPEN FOR 3RD TIME

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6 — Ben Hogan left town today, having accomplished the following feats in the game of golf:

Won the $10,000 Los Angeles Open for the third time:

Established a new record for the tournament at the Riviera Country club with a 72-hole score of 275.

Hogan collected $2,000 for first place, Lloyd Mangrum $1,400 for second, and Ellsworth Vines, the one time king of the amateur and pro tennis worlds, finished third for $1,000.

Bobby Locke finished with an embarrassing 76 for 287 and a $400 consolation prize.

Low amateur honors fell to Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., whose 70 put him in at 289.

"Sudden Death" Ending Of Tie Games Proposed

By The United Press

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 6 — Elimination of the extra point and substitution of an extra period to eliminate all tie contests will be proposed when the National Football league rules committee meets in New York next week, it was revealed today.

Strong backing for the "sudden death" ending of tied contests came from Commissioner Bert Bell who said he would recommend that the pro circuit inaugurate the rule for all its league games. The feature, which gives victory to the team scoring first after the regulation game ends, now is used by the circuit only in the NFL championship playoff contest.

The league rules makers will consider those and other suggested changes at their session next Wednesday, immediately preceding the annual league meeting which opens Thursday, Jan. 15, and continues through the following Sunday.

Ohio High School Sports Boomed in 1947

By JOHN BARRINGTON
INS Sports Writer

COLUMBUS—High school sports in 1947 enjoyed another banner year, with no perceptible slackening in the intensity of post-season interest.

Scholastic athletes played before capacity audiences, and they responded with performances that reached new heights.

The year was studded, too, with important off-the-field developments.

Personally the outstanding team achievement of 1947 was Middletown's feat of winning its third consecutive Class A basketball championship and its fourth in five years.

Middies Steamed Up

The Middies, with only one regular back, had a mediocre season. Coach Paul Walker had them "up" for tournament play, however, and they reached their peak in the state championship game with East Liverpool. The Potters' didn't have a chance as the Middies won, 47-29.

Walker's team lost only forward Carl Lansaw for this season. Led by sky-scraping Shelby Darville and George McChesney, the Middies look like a good bet to extend their dynasty still further.

A valiant band of Columbia Lippers, after near misses two previous seasons, finally grabbed the Class B honors in 1947. They defeated New Knoxville, 43-34.

The state tournament returned to the state fairgrounds coliseum for the first time since the war, and the schoolboys played to jammed houses. A new attendance record was established as 34,786 persons passed through the turnstiles for the six tourney sessions.

Upheaval on Gridiron

There was upheaval in the ranks of the great unwashed during the 1947 football season. Toledo Waite, mythical state champion for two straight years, tumbled out of the first ten ratings as established for International News Service by sports writers and radio sportscasters.

The 1947 football wonder team was Barberton. The Magics breezed through a nine-game schedule undefeated, placed halfback Dicky Goudy and tackle Bob Toneff on the all-Ohio team and had Coach Harry Strobel named the mentor of the year.

Canton McKinley ranked close behind the Magics, only a 7-6 defeat by Canton Lincoln marring an otherwise perfect Bulldog season. Other "top ten" selections were Elyria, Cleveland Cathedral Latin, Columbus, West, Hamilton, Warren Harding, Middletown, Piqua and Cleveland Rhodes.

The High School Football Coaches association's All-Star game played at Canton last summer ended in a six-all tie between North and South elevens coached by Ray Eliot of Illinois and Wes Fesler of Ohio State.

Return to Canton

Departing from their original plan to rotate the All-Star game from one section of the state to another, the coaches decided to return the game to Canton in 1948. They also voted to turn over actual coaching of the stellar teams to high school mentors. Strobel and Chuck Mather of Hamilton were designated to handle the squads next summer.

Cleveland East Tech succeeded Sandusky as state swimming champion. The Clevelanders scored 34 points. Canton McKinley was second with 24.

Tennis was an all-Cincinnati affair for the second straight year, with Tony Trabert of Walnut Hills repeating in the singles and defending champs Bud Igel and Jack Collins of St. Xavier winning the doubles.

New champions were crowned in track, baseball and golf. Led by Medalist Leo Biagetti, Sandusky dethroned Columbus North as golf titlist. Class A track honors went to Cleveland Central, while Poland was the Class B winner.

Cleveland Heights defated Upper Arlington, 3-1, in the Class A baseball finale. Hamilton township of Franklin county was the Class B winner by the same score from Cincinnati Terrace Park.

Akron North successfully defended state cross country laurels this fall, while John Holloman of Akron East was the individual winner for the second year in a row.

Develop Insurance

From an administrative standpoint, the year's two most important developments were the establishment of a mutual insurance company to underwrite expenses of high school athletic injuries and rejection of a movement to lower the scholastic age limit to 18 years.

The insurance plan enabled the Ohio High School Athletic association to assure protection at a nominal fee to its thousands of schoolboy proteges.

The age limit proposal precipitated a bitter argument that saw a threat to carry the problem before the state legislature. In a referendum of member schools, however, the present 20th-birthday limitation was retained.

Pending before the association at year end was a referendum on the question of permitting girls' interscholastic competition.

Late in the year, the Ohio scene was enlivened by a smouldering feud between high school coaches and the Ohio State university athletic department.

Buck officials were quoted as deploring the loss of top scholastic talent to out-of-state schools, and it was implied that some of the high school mentors were guilty of laxity in their missionary duties. To this, the cotches replied with heated charges that the state university did not pursue a policy calculated to woo support of the prep athletes and their tutors.

Green Camp, McMillen, Schlairet Win at Y

Green Camp K. of P. and McMillen Feeds had a tough time pulling out wins in the year's opening Y.M.C.A. Monday Nite league basketball card at the Y last night, but Schlairet Transfer had an easy time defeating Carroll's Jewelry, 58-23.

Green Camp shaded Smith's Clothing, 45-41, hitting the hoop consistently in the first quarter while Smith's was unable to hit the hoop at all. During the next two quarters the teams played even ball, but in the last period Smith's poured 16 counters through the meshes, to lose by only 4 points.

McMillen Feeds undefeated team managed to come out on top in the best game of the evening as they went home the winner by one point over Marion Merchants, 41-40. Both teams scored the same number of two-pointers, but McMillen was one point luckier at the foul line. Shellhorn took scoring honors as he dropped ten from the floor and three free throws for a total of twenty-three.

Schlairet Transfer won in a walk-away from Carroll's winning 58-23. Harold Dillion led both teams in points with nine baskets and two free throws giving him a total of 20. Schlairet controlled the ball most of the game and was at no time in danger of defeat. McMillen and Schlairet will battle next week to decide the champion of the league for the first round. Both teams wlil enter the game undefeated.

GIL DODDS
Undefeated Deacon

NEW YORK—During a year in which America's track and field aces had their sights set on the 1948 Olympics, Gil Dodds, the Flying Parson, and Harrison Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace College, Berea, O., were the outstanding trackmen.

Dodds made a successful comeback to the indoor boards and he went through the campaign unbeaten in competition over the mile and two-mile distances.

Dillard captured four AAU hurdles events. Besides retaining his 110-meter high and 200-meter low hurdles outdoor titles he also won both indoor events at 60 yards. In the 220-yard low hurdles in the NCAA outdoor meet at Salt Lake City, Dillard was timed in 0:22.3, breaking the world's record set in 1940 by Fred Wolcott.

He also had three American records approved when the AAU met in Omaha early in December.

Herb McKenley, a Jamaican running for the University of Illinois, had three American records approved. He covered 300 yards (dirt track around two curves) in 0:30.3 last March and the same day covered 440 yards indoors in 0:47.9. McKenley's top 440 effort was his 0:46.2 outdoors at Salt Lake City. However, no application for a record was asked because of a strong wind. His 0:46.3, made during the Big Ten-Pacific Coast dual meet at Berkeley, Calif., in June, was approved as an American record and was submitted as a world record.

Mel Patton of the University of Southern California tied Jesse Owens' mark for 100 yards when he sprinted the distance in 0:09.4 last May. The mark, too, has been submitted as a world record.

In chalking up victories in mile runs in Boston, New York, Chicago and Canada, Dodds turned in fine performances. His 4:06.8 mile in Chicago in March was the fastest of the year.

CLUB HEARS TALK ON MARION LABORATORY

Fred Warner Jr. Discusses New Marion Business.

A talk concerning the Warner Clinical Laboratory located at 604 Girard avenue, was given by Fred Warner Jr., a Lion, at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions club Monday at Hotel Harding. This is the first talk in a series of several to be given at future meetings regarding business in Marion.

Mr. Warner explained operation of the laboratory he and Mrs. Warner opened for business five months ago. The laboratory does only referred work for Marion physicians, Mr. Warner said. He then gave as examples of their work the taking of blood sugar tests, serological tests, and kidney function tests. The Warner Laboratory is the only private laboratory in Marion whose services are available to all doctors. House call services is maintained at all hours of the day or night.

Mrs. Warner, a graduate medical technologist of the Hawkins Schol of Medical Technology in Memphis, Tenn., is the owner and operator of the laboratory, and Mr. Warner is an "on the job training" student studying under the G.I. Bill of Rights. His wife serves as the instructor.

Program chairman for the day was William Nye, and Mr. Warner was introduced by James Bonen.

Guests were Lion L. L. Garver of Mt. Gilead, Lion T. A. McVicker of Richwood, Doyle Montgomery of Marion, Ralph Sharpnack of Mansfield and S. Ohly of Sandusky.

Guest speaker at the meeting next week will be Perry Cooper, manager of the Marion Milling Co., who will talk concerning grain.

Navy Club Auxiliary Reelects Mrs. Obenour

Mrs. Esther Obenour was reelected commandante when members of the Navy Club auxiliary met Monday night in the Navy club headquarters. Reelected also were Mrs. Eva Pierce, junior executive officer, Mrs. Valeria Haughn, ship's writer and Mrs. Betty Whittington, paymaster. Elected were: Mrs. Evadell Roush, senior executive officer; Mrs. Edith Richey, chaplain; Mrs. Sara Pickett, historian; Mrs. Martha Haines, pianist. Installation ceremonies will be held Feb. 2.

Activities to be carried on by the auxiliary were discussed. Mrs. Roush, local chairman, reported on the Ohio squadron project, girl delinquency, and told of a conference on the subject with Juvenile Judge Edward J. Ruzzo, and Mrs. Bertha Swogger gave a report on a conference held with Morrow county officials on the subject. Mrs. Haines reported on gifts sent to residents of the girls' industrial school near Delaware at Christmas time. Mrs. Edith Ritchey of Mt. Gilead and Mrs. Pauline Swogger Smith of Edison were welcomed as new members.

Mrs. Sarah Pickett, senior executive officer, presided for the meeting and appointed Mrs. Evelyn Reynolds to serve as conductress. A meeting set for Jan. 19 will be a social affair.

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

MANY people are wondering what the brave new world of the future will be like.

I don't. I'm already living in the middle of it.

This version of what the universe will be like when all men are brothers is a 15-story modern cliff dwelling on the lower East Side.

Most of the families work for the United Nations. And the site is much more peaceful than in the days of the Gas House Gang. Then the sound of blackjack versus skull was a normal night noise, whereas today the only thing being murdered is the English language.

Hal Boyle

The brass mailboxes in our lobby index people from all corners of the globe, living together in a miniature "one world."

So far our principal meeting place has been the automatic elevators, where by grin, grimace and gesture we exchange greetings until we reach our separate floors and part.

The people we want to meet most are the Chinese family beneath us. Every evening smells from the mysterious east filter up from the gas stove below, redolent odors that fill our apartment with the wonderful fragrance of a far-off land that knew fine cooking when the epicurean French still were chewing raw meat in Gallic forests. I can close my eyes and sniff Hong Kong and Shanghai again, and the memory of egg rolls, delicate soups and strange crunchy vegetables overpowers me.

AN UNSUNG HERO is the man who delivers milk to the 119 families.

"They really need a diplomat for this job," he told me the other morning. "You ought to see some of the notes these foreigners leave in their milk bottles. Brother, they're harder to figure out than a crossword puzzle by moonlight."

The mailman has something of the same problem, and believes the postoffice ought to give him an interpreter's rating.

"Some of the letters look like they'd been addressed by somebody who just dipped a worm in ink and let it crawl across the envelope," he complained.

Harmony has existed so far in our tower of Babel. Many families have adopted the American custom of Saturday night parties, and as you pass by the doors the multi-lingual voices from within sound like graduating exercises at the Berlitz language school.

A Russian family on the fifteenth floor is particularly fond of parties. A friend of mine who lives next to them says he hears all sorts of strange noises, as if they were dancing the mazurka while signing the Communist manifesto.

RECENTLY MY FRIEND entered the elevator in the lobby, heard voices approaching, and absent-mindedly pulled off his hat just as two Russian men stepped into the cage.

The Russians glanced at each other. The first took off his hat, too. So did the second. Then my friend put his hat back on. So did the first Russian. So did the second. Then all three men rode up to the fifteenth floor in complete silence looking at each other uneasily.

"I suppose they thought I was crazy," said my friend. "But I didn't know just how to explain it."

TO FCC. George E. Sterling (above) of Portland, Me., was named by President Truman to succeed E. J. Jett, resigned, as a member of the Federal Communications Commission.

MILK FACTS

By International News Service

LINCOLN, Neb. The Milk Industry Foundation in New York City reported that Nebraska farmers are receiving the highest cash income from milk in the state's history. The 1947 returns are expected to exceed by a substanial amount the 1946 record-breaking totals of $52,925,000.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

OLGA'S reply to my question was prompt and reassuring, and I reflected, not for the first time, how capable the exiled queen of Transvania was in my unexpected situation.

"Of course, I could manage it," she said, "but fortunately, it is already arranged. Philip and I are alone in the living room, Olina has gone to her own room for the night, and Noel has gone to a rehearsal. Come right up."

"I'll be there immediately," I said, and hanging up the receiver, repeated what Olga just had said to Dicky and to Mr. "K."

"Very good," the FBI man said, "but may I ask how you are going to carry that letter from your father?"

"Inside my gown," I said, putting the letter into its envelope, and thrusting it down the neck of my bodice. "I wouldn't think of carrying it anywhere else."

"A wise decision," he commented, and I murmured. "If you two will excuse me," as I started for the door.

"Hey, where do you get that stuff?" my husband exclaimed in gamin-like fashion as he reached my side in one lope, and clamped his fingers on my arm. Then he grinned at Mr. K."

"I know this haint no way to treat a loidy," he said, "but—"

"Shall I supply the stereotyped corollary?" the FBI man asked with an answering grin. "'Haint no loidy, it's my wife.'"

"You've said it, pal," Dicky told him with emphasis. "Shes ordinarily well-behaved, but when it comes to a question of her own safety, she's the most cantankerous female that ever cantankered."

"If you're sure you've quite finished your exquisite flight of humor," I said demurely, "may I assure you that I would love to have you come with me?"

"Is there a corner of the corridor where I could linger without being seen?" the FBI man asked, and suddenly I had the chilly impression of danger somewhere in the offing. "I don't want your friends to see me, but I'd like to be along."

"I'd like to have you," Dicky told him heartily. "Sure thing. We'll walk up. It's only two flights, and you can linger just inside the door to the stairs."

Mr. "K." nodded. "That will be a perfect arrangements" he said. "Please don't be unduly alarmed, but the Chief doesn't want to take any chances. It's barely possible that I may have been followed tonight, although I do not think so."

The next minute we were going through the hall. Dicky with his hand beneath my arm, and Mr. "K." a step behind us.

When we reached the ornate entrance to the suite of Philip Veritzen, owner of the Hotel Lansfield, as well as doyen of Broadway impresarios, Mr. "K." spoke again, in low tones from his post just inside the stair doors.

"If you don't mind," he said, "I'll just stay here for the duration. I assume you're going inside with your wife."

"I hadn't planned to do that," Dicky said, his voice a bit startled, "but if you think it necessary—"

"I wish you would," the FBI man said.

"Then it's done." Dicky answered, and the next instant the door opened to our knock, and Philip Veritzen, as magnificent as ever, welcomed us warmly.

"Come right in," he said, "and relieve our curiosity. If Olga ever indulged in a twitter, she'd be in one right now. There's no bad news. I trust."

He was hiding Olga's anxiety, and his own beneath the chatter, and I hastened to reassure him.

"I am sure there is no bad news," I said, "but I have a letter from my father which is most bewildering. I'm going to ask you to read it over twice—you'll need two readings, and then to pass it over to Phil. After he has read it, twice, we'll be ready to talk."

I added a mental "At least I hope so," as I handed the letter to her. She read it through twice, and then handed the epistle to her husband, characteristically without a word, so perfect is her poise. But her eyes were fixed on mine until Phil's voice, raised explosively, drew them to his face.

"This is incredible, impossible!" he said. "Even Charles cannot ask this of Olga! It must mean sending out forged notes from her. There can be no other explanation."

Train Hits Car At Bucyrus; 4 Escape

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Abandoning their car when it became caught in the rails after a tire blowout, two Mansfield residents and one Greenwich couple escaped injury when the automobile was struck by an east bound Pennsylvania railroad passenger train at the North Walnut street crossing early Monday.

The car was hurled onto the westbound tracks but the wreckage was cleared before the westbound trains arrived.

Robert C. Shenberger of Mansfield, driver of the car, was accompanied by Mary Smith of Mansfield and John and Helen Ritchey, of near Greenwich. Shenberger told police that a tire blowout as he struck the crossing, pulled him westward onto the eastbound tracks his momentum carrying the car well onto the rails before the car came to a stop.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 6—Leading stocks continued somewhat depressed by light selling today although here and there market resistance was in evidence

The pace slowed after a fairly active start but declines of fractions to a point or so predominated near midday.

Further profit cashing by professionals remained as a handicap.

A shade ahead at intervals were General Motors, Studebaker, Glenn Martin, Public Service of N. J., Standard Oil (NJ), Pan American Airways and Transcontinental & Western Air

Stumblers were Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Firestone Tire Spiegel, Deere, International Harvester, United Aircraft, Schenley, American Telephone, Western Union, North American, Santa Fe, Pennsylvania Railroad, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Atlantic Coast Line, Kennecott, American Smelting, Union Carbine Radio Corp, International Paper Texas Co, Eastern Air Lines and Paramount Pictures.

Officer To Lecture On Air Force Plans

Lt. Col. Robert E. McDonald will be heard in a lecture to be given at the Army-Navy club at Fort Hayes in Columbus Thursday night, Jan. 15, it was announced today by Capt. John B. Weaver, unit instructor, Marion Area, Officers Reserve Corps. The lecture, which will be at 8 o'clock will be titled "Strategical, Tactical and Technical Developments in the Air Force." Lt. Col. McDonald is at present calling on air force installations to obtain latest data for his lecture.

The first part of the lecture Lt. Col. McDonald will devote to a discussion of the relationship of strategy to tactics and technique, which in a broad sense of the word is termed "Air Power," Capt. Weaver states.

There are more than 1,000 enlisted reservists and 380 officer reservists in the Marion area. Credit hours for reserve commissions will be given to those who attend.

Anyone who has no transportation to Columbus on Jan. 15 who desires to attend the lecture is asked to contact Capt. Weaver at 131-133 West Center street.

Dry Cleaning Office Gets New Location

Jamerson Bros., who now operate a dry cleaning and laundry collection office at 131 North State street, have leased the building at 334 South Main street, owned by J. W. Llewellyn. This site was formerly occupied by Chivington Service Station. They plan to open for business in their new location Jan. 12.

HEADS WESLEYAN GUILD

Mrs. Jennie Alexander, newly-elected president, presided for a meeting of the Wesleyan Service guild of the Methodist church at Meeker Friday night at the home of Mary Owen. Vivian Mouser conducted the devotions and Iscah Tron presented the program, assisted by a group of the members. Doris Sappington was in charge of a social hour and awards were won by Mae Coon and Dorothy Coon. A contribution was made to South Side Settlement in Columbus.
